Truck Rams Train At Manistique; Driver Badly Hurt

MANISTIQUE—John G. Swanson, 52, of 600 Range St., Manistique, was seriously injured last night when the diesel truck that he was driving, with two flat trailers loaded with 57,000 pounds of cement mix, crashed into a switch train of the Manistique and Lake Superior Railroad on US-2 in the City of Manistique. The accident occurred at 10:10 p. m. on Chippewa Avenue at the Ann Arbor crossing leading to the Ann Arbor car ferry docks.

The heavily loaded diesel truck and trailers were traveling at 10 to 12 miles per hour. The flasher signals at the crossing were in operation and the train conductor, John Burley, was at the crossing flagging traffic. It is no known whether Swanson failed to see the signals or the train or whether the brakes on his vehicle failed to hold. The diesel equipment is owned by the Swanson Trucking Company and the truck was demolished in the wreck.

Swanson and his Collie dog, Shep, were trapped in the truck cab for more than an hour and a half. The dog has traveled with Swanson for about 15 years. The truck struck the first railroad car behind the engine. The load of cement mix on the truck trailers shifted with the impact and crushed the truck cab.

Railroad Car Derailed
The train, engine and 18 cars, was traveling about four miles per hour at the time of the accident, Charles Havlicek, engineer, reported.

The truck cab and engine were pulled to one side by the impact and caught on the pole holding the flasher signals. One wheel of the railroad car that was hit by the truck broke and the car was derailed.

A wrecker crane, supplemented with power from another Swanson Trucking Co. truck, and a cross pulley were used to pry open the cab sufficiently to extricate Swanson and his dog. It was nearly midnight before the driver and the dog were removed from the cab.

Sustained Fractures
Swanson was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. He sustained injuries to both legs, a broken right foot, a slight cerebral concussion, rib fractures, broken nose, facial abrasions and body contusions. He was in a coma when admitted to the hospital but his condition was reported to be improved this morning.

The dog suffered a broken leg and other injuries. He is being treated by a veterinarian. The insulation on the electric wires in the truck cab burned off and diesel fuel dripping from the wires ignited three times during the rescue operations. A city fireman, Harry Durno, stood by to extinguish the flames each time.

Traffic on US-2 was detoured until nearly four o'clock this morning by way of Cooks on old US-2. The rescue operations were watched by hundreds of Manistique residents and motorists, including many from Escanaba who were in Manistique last night for the Escanaba-Manistique basketball game.

The load of cement was taken to Manistique yesterday from Petoskey by Herman Swanson, brother of John. John was taking the load to Houghton for the Michigan College of Mining and Technology and had just started on his run when the accident occurred.

Blizzard In Rockies Moving Eastward; 5 Dead, 17 Injured

DENVER — Snow still fell in parts of the three Rocky Mountain states but the winter's worst blizzard was edging eastward early today, leaving five known dead and 17 injured.

Snowplows broke through, however, to release the last 25 persons who had been reported missing as the bitter blow all but halted highway travel in Wyoming. Rescued in the same vicinity, near the top of the continental divide on U. S. Highway 30 in southern Wyoming were a Greyhound bus stalled with 19 passengers and the driver, and six Craig, Colo., men in a station wagon.

The last bus to be set free was found with its motor still running to operate the heaters. Driver Glen Andrews, about 50, of Cheyenne, Wyo., reported he had nearly 100 gallons of gasoline left to keep his passengers warm when they stalled Friday.

A state highway patrol accompanying a snow plow radioed word the six Craig men had been found unharmed. They had taken shelter from the storm while trying to drive 175 miles home from Rock Springs, Wyo.

In addition to the deaths resulting directly from the blizzard, a 2-year-old child perished in a fire at Wolf Point, Mont., and another blaze left a Riverton, Wyo., farm family of seven homeless.

Feikens Expected To Win Out As Michigan GOP Chairman

DETROIT — The "stop Feikens" drive appeared to be petering out today as Michigan Republicans assembled for their spring nominating convention.

John Feikens of Detroit, Republican state chairman during the party's defeat last fall, claimed victory in his reelection bid—and his opponents gave every indication of being unable to stop him.

Feikens, blamed by one segment of the party for the November election defeat, said he had counted about 1,100 votes for himself out of the 1,602 delegates gathered for the 11 a. m. start of the state convention.

Knox Leads Opposition
Arthur T. Iverson of Detroit, former deputy attorney general backed by the independent 17th congressional district caucus for state chairman rejected Feikens' claim to victory—but refused to make his own guess as to the final vote.

Reliable reports within the party said that Michigan Republican congressmen had taken the lead in trying to defeat Feikens. Reps. Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie, August E. Johansen of Battle Creek, Elford A. Cederberg of Bay City and Clare E. Hoffman of Allegan were reported to have sped in from Washington, D. C., to bolster the "stop Feikens" movement.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso, mentioned by some as a possible new leader of the Michigan Republican party and maybe a candidate for governor or U. S. Senator, made no bones about his attempt to defeat Feikens.

Crippling Rider Killed
The House passed the bill 295-110 Friday after beating back 206 - 199 an amendment which would have curbed the President's powers, and which its opponents said would have had a "crippling" and "devastating" effect.

House Democrats led by Speaker Rayburn (Tex.), who made a personal appeal in a floor speech at a crucial point in the debate, supplied by far the biggest block of votes for the amendment.

They voted 140-80 against the restrictive amendment, while Republicans favored it 119-66. Final passage saw Democrats voting 186-35 and Republicans 109-75 for the measure.

More Authority Given
The bill would extend the 20-year-old reciprocal trade law three more years, and give the President additional power to reduce tariffs 5 per cent a year during that period, in return for concessions on U. S. shipments abroad.

In addition, he could lower all duties above 50 per cent of the value of the goods down to that level, and could slash by 50 per cent duties on articles imported in negligible quantities.

Senate Democratic leaders expressed hope they can roll up a big vote for the measure, to show strong support for the President on one of his key, controversial proposals.

Young Slayer Of Child Gets Mental Tests

DETROIT — Sixteen-year-old Floyd Diamond Saturday begins a series of mental tests to determine whether he should stand trial for first degree murder in the savage killing of Kathleen McLaughlin.

The curly-haired, baby - faced youth admitted to police yesterday he stabbed 9-year-old Kathy time after time with his pocketknife, then shattered her skull with a rock after a scuffle Thursday in a wooded area near their home in suburban Farmington township.

Kathy's father, John J. McLaughlin, found her body lying in a skating pond after a search was started when she failed to come home for supper Thursday evening.

The Diamond boy, who was released two months ago from the Wayne County Training School, was returned to the Oakland County Children's Home in Pontiac after he re-enacted the crime for state police Friday.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore of Pontiac declined to rule immediately on Prosecutor Fred C. Ziemi's request for a waiver of Probate Court protection so Floyd can be prosecuted as an adult. He said he wanted a thorough inquiry into the boy's background and mentality before he makes his decision.

"If, as indicated, this boy is feeble-minded," Moore said, "he belongs in a home for mental defectives, not in prison."

Dr. Robert H. Haskell, medical superintendent of the Wayne County Training School, described the boy as "undeveloped mentally, physically, socially and psychologically."

He said tests at the school showed Floyd's mental age was only nine.

Openly advocating the election of Iverson, Bentley said he feared for the future of the party in Michigan if a new state chairman were not elected.

Candidates Unopposed

The Feikens' camp said Feikens had been offered the Republican national committee chairmanship if he would drop out of the state chairman race. The present national committeeman, David W. Kendall of Jackson, has said he would resign soon. He has been appointed general counsel to the defense department.

The chairmanship fight overshadowed the ostensible purpose of the convention—the nomination of candidates for the April 4 state election.

Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, was ready for renomination without much opposition.

The convention is expected to renominate J. Joseph Herbert of Manistique for the board of regents of the University of Michigan. For the vacancy on the board, William B. Cudlip, Detroit attorney, appeared to be the leader.

A decision by former State Treasurer D. Hale Brake of Stanton to seek one of the nominations for the state supreme court tangled smooth pre-convention arrangements.

Brownell Keynote

Dale Stafford, Greenville newspaper publisher, was conceded the leader in the race for one opening on the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State College.

However, some delegates were boggling at this situation because both Stafford and Brake come from the same county.

Stafford was getting his opposition from P. Eduard Geldhof, retired St. Joseph industrialist.

Chief Justice Leland W. Carr of Lansing was accorded renomination to the supreme court without opposition.

Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke of Harrisville withdrew from the supreme court race yesterday.

There still was no opposition to renomination of Stephen S. Nisbet of Fremont to the State Board of Education.

Chinese Communist Ships Sunk; Get No Help From Red Planes

TAIPEI, Formosa — Newspapers reported today that Chinese Communist troop and supply ships—sunk Friday in Nationalist China's biggest naval victory—radioed for air cover, but no Red planes came to their help.

The Nationalists claimed 21 ships and a submarine sunk in the blazing action near the Taishan Islands, 120 miles northwest of Formosa and 15 miles from the Red mainland—within easy range of Communist air bases.

In reporting the action Friday the Nationalist Defense Ministry made no mention of Red fighters challenging Nationalist planes and surface craft which carried on the daylight attack.

Morale Gets Lift

Advance intelligence of the Reds' troop and supply movements set up the Nationalist strike in the Formosa Strait Friday.

The Nationalists exulted in a victory which lifted morale from the low caused by last week's withdrawal from the Tachen Islands.

Nationalist intelligence knew a day in advance that a 14-ship convoy would move troops and supplies southward from Wenchow Bay on Friday.

That gave Chiang Kai-shek's Navy time to move its northern fleet based at Keelung into position to pounce on the Red Chinese flotilla. Normally this fleet would include a half dozen destroyers along with destroyer escorts and converted minesweepers.

Surviving Vessels Flee
At dawn Friday the Nationalist warships were cruising the choppy East China Sea out of sight of the mainland but in position to intercept the Red flotilla.

The eight Communist landing ships, guarded by two destroyer escorts and four gunboats, moved into sight and the action began about 8 a. m.

By 9 a. m., the Nationalist navy said, it had sunk at least seven landing ships and possibly three gunboats.

The surviving Red craft fled toward nearby harbors with the Nationalist warships in pursuit. Nationalist fighter-bombers roared out from Formosa to join in the action. Adm. Lee Yu-hai, who brought his victorious fleet back to Keelung today, estimated Red casualties were in excess of 1,000 dead.

What appears to have been another convoy, possibly unaware of the disastrous blow to the first, moved into the area and the Nationalist air force pounced on it.

Claim Submarine Hit
The air force claimed its warplanes sank a landing craft, two gunboats and eight armed motorized junks.

Pilots hunting for targets of opportunity said they saw a submarine surface about 3:50 p. m. and scored direct hits. They reported it "sank into the sea."

The submarine episode was viewed with some reservation here because the Nationalist air force had not had much experience in submarine attacks.

The Chinese Reds are not known to have submarines but Russia has many in Far East and Northern waters. Reports of Red subs based as far south as Hainan Island off the South China Coast have been heard often but never confirmed.

Fire In Coalbin
IDAHO FALLS, Idaho — Firemen snuffed smoke for several days before they finally located the fire. It was in the basement of the municipal building—which houses the central fire station.

The fire was in a 36-ton pile of coal which apparently began smoldering from spontaneous combustion.

The slow burn had consumed an estimated three tons of coal when it was finally found.

Soviets Suggest World Freeze On Armaments

MOSCOW — Reiterating her 9-year-old stand on arms questions, the Soviet Union has called for a world freeze on armaments and the immediate destruction of all atomic and hydrogen weapons.

The Russian declaration was issued Friday night, a week before the scheduled reopening of disarmament discussions in London by a United Nations subcommittee. It announced that Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Jacob Malik, Russian ambassador to London, would represent the Soviet Union in the talks.

Arms Race Condemned
Insisting that Western powers were intensifying the arms race and production of atomic weapons by pushing for the rearmament of Western Germany, the statement said:

"The Soviet government considers atomic weapons should be banned and effective international control established for the prohibition of atomic weapons and the reduction of arms and armed forces, first of all of the major powers."

"An important step in that direction would be an international agreement under which the states would make a solemn pledge to refrain from using such weapons."

Conference Proposed
The statement proposed that a general international conference on reduction of armaments be held sometime this year and said the Soviet Union wants the nations:

1. To "abolish completely the stocks of atomic and hydrogen bombs which states possess, leading to exclusive utilization of atomic materials for peaceful purposes."

2. Not to increase the size of their armed forces and their armaments as compared with the level of Jan. 1, 1955, as well as not to increase allocations for military purposes as compared with budget allocations for 1955."

The statement charged that recent decisions of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) were aimed at war preparations.

Formosa Planes Sink 15 Junks

TAIPEI, Formosa. — The Chinese Nationalist air force reported its planes destroyed 15 of 23 motorized Communist armed junks spotted near the Taishan Islands in the Formosa Strait today.

The Air Force said five other junks were damaged heavily. This was in the same area where the Nationalist Air Force and Navy claimed to have sunk 21 Red ships and a submarine Friday.

Tonight's communique said all planes returned safely. There was no mention of any opposition by Chinese Communist planes.

Another communique reported Nationalist planes heavily bombed installations on the Taishans Friday night and possibly destroyed one warship. It apparently was the same claim made in a late communique Friday.

New York Girl Is Pie Champion

CHICAGO — A dimple cheeked high school senior who had never before been farther West than Rochester, N. Y., beat champions with a recipe and checked out with the national cherry pie baking championship.

Blonde Marjorie Campbell 17, of Red Hook, N. Y., beat champions of the other 47 states and Hawaii. This year for the first time the national contest had two male competitors, Gene Goff of Jefferson City, Mo., and David Ludtke of Grand Forks, N. D., neither of whom finished in the money.

Michigan's entry, Lorraine Rose, 15, of Pontiac, was runner up to Mary Ann Plankenhorn, 15, of Decatur, Ill., who was the Central Region winner. Both won $250 college scholarships and the ranges on which they baked their pies.

In addition to the title, Marjorie gets a free trip to Washington, D. C., and New York, a $500 college scholarship and the electric range, on which she baked the winning pie.

During her trip to Washington Marjorie will present the winning pie to a representative of the White House.

Colleges Want Names Changed

DETROIT — Names of three Michigan colleges will be changed if the Legislature approves a request of the State Board of Education.

The board voted to ask that the words "of Education" be dropped from the names of Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo; Northern Michigan College, Marquette; and Central Michigan College, of Mt. Pleasant.

It also decided to ask Attorney General Thomas Kavanagh whether the Legislature has authority to change the name of Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti.

Normal wants to change its name to Michigan Eastern State College, but the name of Michigan State Normal College is mentioned in the State Constitution, and Kavanagh was asked whether it could be changed without a constitutional amendment.

Two other state institutions were asked to consider name changes: Michigan School for the Blind at Lansing and Michigan School for the Deaf at Flint.

Assembly Turns Down Pineau As French Premier

PARIS (P)—France's latest government crisis entered its third week today as the National Assembly rejected Christian Pineau's premiership bid.

Pineau who lost out 312-268 in a postmidnight vote, immediately reported his defeat to President Rene Coty. The President who has given three aspirants a chance Pierre Mendes-France was voted out Feb. 5, lost no time arranging a series of consultations in quest of a new candidate.

Predictions were Coty would settle on a member of the Radical Socialist party. Seen as likely choices were Edgar Faure, Andre Morice, Maurice Bourges-Maunoury and Sen. Jean Berthoin. All were former ministers and all but Morice had served in Mendes-France's government.

Pineau's defeat came as no surprise. He always was on shaky ground and seemed to be in an untenable position after three followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle refused cabinet posts after tentatively accepting them.

Pineau was opposed strongly by the Communists and far right wing elements.

Bids Total $878,000 For State Road Jobs In U.P.

The State Highway Department yesterday opened bids in Escanaba on 14 proposed highway improvement projects in the Upper Peninsula, with low bids totaling in excess of $878,000, it was reported today by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

Most of the projects are for graveling resurfacing of state roads in most U. P. counties, while other projects include concrete paving in Marquette, improvement of US-41 in the Copper Country, and on US-2 in Gogebic county.

The projects, low bidders and the bids are as follows:

Karas Concert Tickets On Sale

Sale of tickets for the third annual Karas Memorial Concert, presenting the famed Green Bay Symphonette conducted by Ralph B. Holter, is now under way in the Escanaba area by the Karas Memorial Bandshell Committee and members of musical organizations.

In Escanaba the tickets are on sale at Gust Asps, the Delta Music Center and Marcelle's Shoppe; and in Gladstone at the Dehlin Drug Store. The concert is scheduled for Sunday evening, Feb. 27, in Wm. Oliver Memorial Auditorium. The Green Bay Symphonette has been cited by the American Composers Alliance for "distinguished achievement in fostering and encouraging American music." Although described by its director as a Symphonette, the 55-piece orchestra is in every way a symphony orchestra.

The Symphonette will appear here to benefit the Karas Memorial Bandshell fund. No charge is being made for its appearance, but the Symphonette's travel expense will be paid and the members will be entertained at a buffet supper before the concert.

Two or three Escanaba musicians, including Elie DeDryver, cellist, will play with the Symphonette in its concert here. DeDryver has several times played as guest cellist with the Symphonette in Green Bay.

Conductor Holter reports that a varied program designed to please the benefit concert audiences is being arranged.

Letters To The Editor

Feb. 14, 1955
Escanaba's Needs

Dear Editor:

This letter could serve as a timely reminder that it is later than you think. For instance, the U. P. may be forgotten insofar as improved highways, safer bridges are concerned. Yes, we will be taxed anyway, but the major improvements will be allocated to the lower portion of Michigan. Let us hope that the proper authorities will reconsider their present program on roads and include the Upper Peninsula also.

May I say at this time that I am a taxpayer in the City of Escanaba, and also in the County, and I feel, therefore, privileged to express my views not only on County problems, but also City problems.

Soon the citizens of Escanaba will go to the polls and vote on that important subject of whether Escanaba should sell their electrical distribution system, or whether they should retain it. In the event that should the majority vote not to sell the electrical distribution system, then I hope they will use some of the $241,000 earned each year from the electrical utilities for the following purposes, namely:

1. Make repairs to our Yacht Harbor, so that we will not have to hang our heads in shame when visiting yachtsmen call on us, or when tourist or visitors drive to our harbor basin and see the shabby facilities that we have.

2. Make plans and build a recreational center in Escanaba which could be used for so many occasions. Our young people have no particular place to enjoy themselves. We should have a recreational building that will provide for indoor swimming, volleyball, hockey, indoor skating, basketball, and many other sports. I understand Marquette is preparing to build such a building at a cost of $945,000. The $100,000 the Bonifas Estate provided for such a building is a good start.

3. Improve our hard ball and soft ball fields. Clean up the grounds at the soft ball field, and particularly destroy the present toilet facilities at the soft ball field, which are, expressing it mildly, disgraceful, unsanitary and dirty. Repair the sand road surrounding the field, gravel and oil this road or hardtop it, to prevent clouds of dust and accidents.

4. Hardtop Ludington Street, so visitors will not think Escanaba is going backwards. In laying a surface of blacktop will also lower our old-fashioned curbs, so that car bumpers will not get all bent up, as is now the case.

These are only a few of the real needs at this time. In order to encourage outdoor sports, such as hockey, ice skating, baseball, etc. the City should channel some of the $241,000 annually earned from the electrical system for these purposes.

The attendance to out door sports would be a good deal increased if we had the proper facilities. I understand Marquette does not intend to play hockey with us next year, on account of our present indoor rink being too small. I feel that our Council should appoint a Recreational Board, consisting of seven men, whose duty it would be to see that a reasonable amount of funds be earmarked for definite improvements along the line above suggested.

I am well proud of the improvement made in Escanaba, such as our new water station, the improved curbing and paving, the clean alleys, the fine street lighting, the water tower, etc. but why neglect our recreational facilities? Personally I believe, and many people with whom I have talked to, feel that a Recreational Building was much more important than a new State Office Building. If additional State Agencies would move into Escanaba, I would not object, but as I understand this new building will merely house the present agencies now located in Escanaba. This, of course, will make many vacancies in down town offices, actually placing the City in direct competition with local property owners. This is not a healthy situation.

Marquette, Iron Mountain, Menominee, Soo, and many other neighboring cities have an outstanding Tourist Information Bureau, and have had it for years. What has Escanaba got in this respect? A City that is centrally located in the Upper Peninsula, and yet defaults with respect to the thousands of tourists who come our way, seeking information and friendly guidance.

I am informed that a certain Mr. Ewald B. Janett of Escanaba had the courage, public spirit and determination to help these tourists and by the way of personal expense, hard work and sweat raised enough funds to build the present Tourist Information building, now located at 23rd and Ludington St. But the shocking part of it is that a large organization in Escanaba instead of co-operating with him, actually endeavored to impede his progress and discourage him in this wonderful job he did. Instead of supporting him in a moral, and financial way, they strangely opposed him. This is not the spirit that should prevail in our city.

I do not think the fault lies with our City Council, nor with our City Management. I think the blame does rest with us, the people, for not bringing these matters to the attention of our City Administration.

Let's have less expensive city surveys, fewer special elections, and spend some of the huge profits from the electric utilities for purposes herein mentioned.

Sincerely,

League To Open Power Problem Talks Feb. 24

The series of power problem talks to be presented to the public by the League of Women Voters of Escanaba and the Adult Evening School will start Thursday, Feb. 24.

The purpose of these meetings is to give the citizens of Escanaba an opportunity to hear all sides of the problem and a chance to ask questions so as to bring some order out of the confusion that exists. The League as an organization has organized the material, that is available, as every individual voter would like to do but frequently cannot spare the time for the reading, research and interviewing necessary, it was announced.

Information on the power problem has been obtained from the proposal of the Upper Peninsula Power Company, Houghton, to purchase the city's electric distribution system; the proposed contract with the Alger-Delta Electric Co-operative Association; engineering reports to the City of Escanaba by Consoer and Townsend and Pfeiffer & Shultz; and annual reports and other public records of the city.

The League of Women Voters is sending teams of two members to each of the five public grade schools so that people in those areas will be able to meet and discuss the problem with their friends and without having to travel long distances. The first of these meetings will be held on Thursday, Feb. 24, at the Jefferson, Franklin and Webster schools. The meetings will start at 8 p. m. and the public is encouraged to attend the meetings in their area.

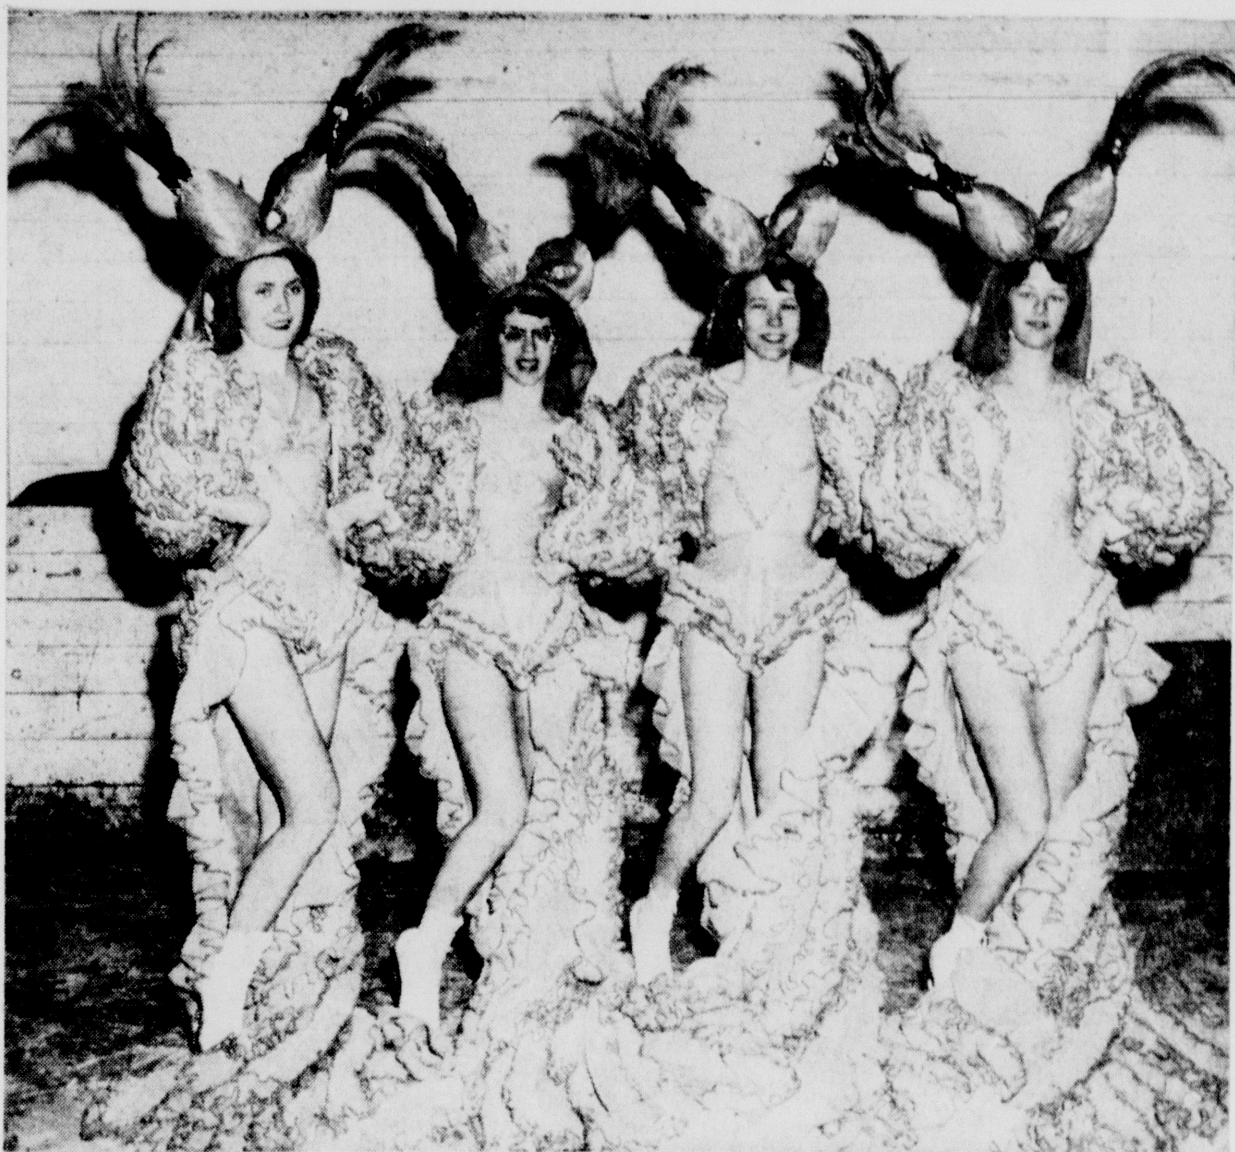

Mrs. Frank Neumeier and Miss Nina Ley will conduct the meeting at the Franklin School; Mrs. Russell Johnson and Mrs. John Nystrom at the Jefferson; and Mrs. Sam Molod and Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder at the Webster School.

Ike Offered Sound Campaign Advice To GOP Committee

PRESIDENT Eisenhower gave some good advice to the Republican National Committee Thursday when he recommended that Republican speakers ought not to link Communists and Democrats in the same class when the Republicans line up to fight their enemies.

Some Republican speakers, primarily Sen. McCarthy, have followed this line of arguments. They have branded Democrats as traitors and have tossed them into the same basket as Communist spies. This is ridiculous, of course, and it is a travesty on the intelligence of Americans. It also is a libel on millions of loyal, patriotic Americans who have chosen to follow the Democratic party.

Sen. McCarthy has a knack of branding as traitors virtually everyone who fails to see eye to eye with the junior Wisconsin senator. He has not yet called President Eisenhower a Communist or a traitor but McCarthy has come close to that and probably will go all the way some of these days. He has already "apologized" for supporting Eisenhower in the last presidential election.

The Communist smear tactics of Sen.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Today's quiz is based upon words often confused with each other. In each of the ten sentences you will find two similar words set off by parentheses. Try to choose the right word. Answers below. Ten correct is excellent; eight is good; six or fewer, poor.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A Wall Street broker, slave to his work, saw his wife off to the country and stayed away from other women for almost three hours. Then, naturally, he couldn't stand it any longer and called up his very private secretary. "Put on your glad rags," he ordered, "and meet me at the Stork in forty minutes." When he donned the trousers of his own glad rags, he found in the right pocket a note in Friend Wife's handwriting. "Caught you!" it read. "Is this trip necessary?"

Quote from "Hints on Etiquette and the Usages of Society," published in London in 1834:

"Well-bred people arrive as nearly at the appointed dinner-hour as they can. It is a very vulgar and obvious assumption of importance purposely to arrive half an hour behind time. Besides, this gives eight or ten hungry and impatient people an irresistible opportunity to discuss your foibles and tear your reputation to shreds."

President Eisenhower is being both fair-minded and a good politician in his advice to the Republican National Committee. A good campaign is not one that is founded on ridiculous charges. More votes can be secured by appealing to the principles of fair play of the American people than by reckless drivels.

Other Editorial Comments

WITHOUT BENEFIT OF CLAUQUE

(Christian Science Monitor)

Yugoslav cartoonists and artists drawing so-called comic strips assembled recently, says a dispatch from that country. They resolved unanimously:

- (a) That humor must be funny.
- (b) That individuals, as well as collectives, are fit subjects for humor.
- (c) That it is not humor unless laughter results spontaneously.

One's first impulse is to observe that in wording and adopting these resolutions the Yugoslav gentlemen have met their own specifications—especially the one about invoking spontaneous laughter. But the man who draws cartoons and cartoon strips faces a sterner discipline than do funnymen in some other callings.

The "consumer" views the drawings and reads the "blurbs" all by himself, not in groups. If they strike him as funny, he laughs. If he doesn't he turns to something else. But he doesn't laugh because the crowd is laughing, nor shrug because the crowd is silent. Pity the cartoonist everywhere. He doesn't have a studio audience!

Questions and Answers

Q—Which is the oldest equestrian statue in the United States?

A—The statue of Andrew Jackson erected in Lafayette Park, Washington, D. C., in 1853.

Q—Do house spiders bite human beings?

A—Spiders seldom bite unless they are disturbed, and only a few kinds, such as the black widow, have a dangerous bite.

Q—Who was the first opera singer to appear on a commercial radio series?

A—Lawrence Tibbett, American baritone.

Q—What act authorized the unification of the armed services?

A—Public Law 253, Eightieth Congress, approved July 26, 1947.

Q—What is the origin of the expression "to make a spiel"?

A—Spielen is German for "to play, to act, to perform." Hence by extension, to make speeches; or, in the American vernacular, to sound off.

Churchianity And Christianity

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

A generation or so ago one used to hear a distinction frequently made between churchianity and Christianity.

The distinction is not so often made today, perhaps because of a feeling that the churches are drawing nearer to one another.

Nevertheless there is still some warrant for the distinction. The Christian Church had not progressed far on its way before the Apostle Paul, in writing to the Corinthians (II Corinthians 11:3) warned against a departure from "the simplicity that is in Christ."

That is a great and important phrase, that ought to be constantly in mind as a reminder of the New Testament source of our Christianity, and as an ideal and safeguard against confusing Christianity with ecclesiastical officialdom.

It ought to be understood that I am not implying a lack of integrity or of vital Christianity on the part of church leaders in general. I doubt whether there was ever a time when outstanding churchmen were more sincerely devoted to the cause of Christ.

However, the areas of denominational life and organization even in the life of the churches offer great opportunities to ambitious men (and women), who love a sense of power. The official temper, defined by what we sometimes call "officialness" is no less objectionable because it happens to be exercised in the sphere of religion.

Freedom of faith and fellowship has much to do with reality, and with the purpose to make and keep churchianity as Christianity, in accordance with "the simplicity that is in Christ."

If one wished an illustration of how greatly organized religion can depart from that simplicity, it could be found in the Communion Service, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, which ought to be the most sacred and uniting of all rites of the Christian Church. Yet sects and denominations, too often exclusive of one another, are often known as "communions!"

In the conception of a World Communion, and its observance among Protestant churches in October of each year, much has been done to correct that exclusiveness, and unite all Christians in a common fellowship in faith, love and devotion to a common Lord. But every Communion Service ought to be a World Communion, and a Heavenly Communion; an act of remembrance linking the Christian with all who love, and have loved the Lord, the great cloud of witnesses in the Church militant and triumphant, the Church which is truly Christian.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—If the conscience of any member of Congress hurts him about voting for that pay raise of $10,000 a year, there is an easy way out—to give back to the Treasury as much as he likes.

There's precedent for such a gift. Herbert Hoover gave back most of the presidential salary he received while in the White House. He himself never revealed that fact but his friends have told about it. Maybe there are other public servants who have done the same thing and kept it secret.

What a proper salary for members of Congress should be is a very serious matter and goes to the heart of the question of integrity in government.

Many of those in the House of Representatives who voted against the proposed increase—which has yet to pass the Senate—did so because of a conscientious belief that the voters wouldn't approve of it. But it is important that the voters should know all the facts. For many members who voted against the increase really deserve to have the higher salary to cover those expenses they have been trying to meet out of their own pockets. Likewise, some who voted for the increase did so out of consideration for the plight of their colleagues, though they themselves didn't need the extra money.

NO "SERVICE CHARGE"

It all comes down to a simple proposition—the American people certainly don't want only rich men in Congress, nor do they want to see members accepting gratuities from constituents or big campaign contributions in appreciation of service they may have rendered.

Members of the House come up for election every two years, so they are constantly in need of campaign funds. Many of them supply it out of their own pockets rather than solicit gifts from constituents who seek special privileges. But the worst phase of the matter is the drain on the funds of a member of Congress by residents of his district or state who feel their congressman or senator is something of an errand boy or personal representative in Washington.

Lots of the things done by members of Congress for people back home are worth thousands of dollars to those who are benefited, yet there is no such thing as a "service charge" or "fee" to be paid. Indeed, it would be highly improper for any such payment to be made.

If, for example, a new post office building or a defense installation or some other federal project involving huge sums of money is brought to an area as a result of the efforts of a member of either house, there are citizens who profit by the rise in real-estate values and in other ways. They cannot and should not pay for that service. Yet, in the doing of that chore for the people, various expenses are often incurred and in many instances it is the member of Congress who foots the bill rather than become involved in some transaction which a political opponent could some day uncover and use as a smear.

LOW SALARY IN ENGLAND

It is odd but members of national legislatures the world over have trouble about the size of their salaries. In Britain the Churchill government almost was overthrown last spring because the Labor party insisted on a pay raise and the Conservatives opposed it. Many of them are wealthy and carry on extensive business interests. Only after some Conservatives deserted their leadership was the issue compromised. Today the pay of a member of the House of Commons is the equivalent of about $2,800 a year, with an extra allowance they may request for each day the house sits. This amounts approximately to about an extra $740 a year. Curiously enough, the House members in London have no private offices or staffs provided by the government.

In France the pay is equivalent to about $5,000 a year and the 100 Communist deputies contribute about $3,000 apiece directly to the party fund or approximately $300,000 a year, which is quite a sizable help in carrying on Communist propaganda.

In the state legislatures in this country members are poorly paid and it is a scandal that corporations with business before these bodies often retain as counsel for other services members who are lawyers. The labor unions do the same thing.

Many members of Congress have outside income. Some earn it by getting large fees for speaking before labor unions and trade bodies of various kinds. Others still practice law before state courts. Some have large business interests or derive a big income from investments.

The raise in pay is needed in order to permit the election to Congress of citizens irrespective of their income status. A total of $25,000 a year, out of which comes $4,500 for taxes, or a net of $20,500, is not too much for a member of either the house or the senate to receive if he is honorably to serve his constituency.

Cleveland Points One Way Out Of Downtown Parking Problem

MAJOR AID IN CLEVELAND'S PARKING PROBLEM is this municipal lot along lake shore, where parking is free. A loop bus circulates through aisles to pick up parkers bound downtown.

CLEVELAND—(NEA)—If you think it's tough to find a place to park your car when you drive downtown these days what are you going to do in 1960, when traffic engineers figure there will be 18,000,000 more cars on the nation's streets?

One solution might be to take a look at what they're doing in Cleveland, where private enterprise, newspapers, citizens and the city government have teamed up to loosen the parking villain's stranglehold on traffic.

It is still no parker's paradise. Motorists continue to howl; downtown businessmen send out SOS calls and the planners issue doleful reports.

But there is also progress on a problem which has many another city completely baffled.

On a recent business day, a thorough car count ticked off only 24,215 cars parked in the 29,119 spaces available in the central city area.

During that same day, there were also 12,273 instances of illegal parking—stopping in non-stop areas, double-parking for a few minutes, blocking driveways. But all-day parkers were well taken care of.

Cleveland has made its strides against downtown parking problems largely by using outlying lots. Here it works. In many cities it has failed.

The lake front helped tremendously. Filled in to provide room for an expressway, spare acreage provides free parking for 2300 cars.

Public transportation was meshed in to help with the problem. For example, the Cleveland Transportation Service runs a loop bus through big parking lots at both ends of the business district every 10 minutes. For a dime, a shopper can travel to any location in the downtown district.

Cleveland's expanding rapid-transit rail system has been valuable in zipping residents from the southeast into the very heart of the business district. They leave their cars at home. During the baseball season, when the Indians play at night, special buses cover city and suburban routes to pick up fans, then return them after the game.

"We can't say parking is solved," says George Wallace, chief city planner. "While there is adequate parking downtown, it is not properly distributed. There are critical areas. We have charted where they are and are asking private business to help the city serve them."

The aim of the Planning Commission is to provide parking within two blocks of the places people want to go, such as department stores, theaters and downtown shops.

"One-third of the downtown blocks attracts nearly two-thirds of the downtown parkers," the commission reports. "A lot of the parking places never get filled, simply because they are no located where they will be of enough convenience to enough people."

Cleveland has just hired Robert J. Kelly of Chicago as superintendent of parking. Since he supervised nine city-owned parking garages in his former job, speculation has arisen that Cleveland may cope with its "critical areas" by erecting garages, a policy hitherto untapped in this city.

Problem No. Two for Cleveland is something which technical planners speak of as "Offstreet Parking."

As the load of cars carried by the streets increases it becomes necessary to cut down on curb parking. The traffic pipelines are thus enlarged.

"Just to ban parking is not a solution," says Wallace. "Business and all planes of life in these outlying neighborhoods are disrupted."

"With a bond issue passed by the city voters, we are trying to provide parking lots in congested neighborhoods. It is by the benefit-assessment system. The city uses its power to acquire property and invests one-third of the cost. The businesses in the neighborhood which will benefit agree to pay assessments up to two-thirds.

"It works like putting streets or sewer lines into a section."

Within the last few weeks there have been reports that a private concern is negotiating to build two parking garages in the critical areas downtown. They would be the new automatic type.

These mechanical stackers, which hoist cars high above the street, were one of the bright hopes of the National Parking Association board which met recently in Washington.

But what scares the association is the free, or low-price, city parking lot. L. B. Doggett Jr., president of the association, urges that local parking operators in each city be included on special committees for parking studies. If needs are revealed, operators already in business should be encouraged to expand.

Cleveland authorities would look with favor on any new private garages. Most commercial parking is offered through lots which occupy the sites of torn-down buildings. These they consider impermanent because most are operated on short-term leases. To get its sights on the target, which is sufficient permanent parking room, the Cleveland Planning Commission went into one ward out of its 33 and tallied up how much added space was necessary to make the situation ideal.

The Commission found it would cost $6,000,000 and force 918 families—3420 people—to abandon their homes in order to get the necessary 16 more acres of parking area.

Then, probably, with adequate parking, everyone left would buy two cars. Cleveland's planners have no answer to that one, but until it happens, they think they're getting somewhere with the current headache.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The price tag on President Eisenhower's new health program is now estimated at over $70 million. This is for the first year's operation only, in getting the new programs started. No government official has yet made estimates on what the costs would be in later years, after the programs are in full operation.

The President's special message to Congress spelled out his new health plans in more detail than his state of the union and budget messages. But there are still great gaps that need to be filled in before Congress, the state governments who will receive matching grants under some programs, the doctors and their patients who will benefit, can know what to expect.

The health reinsurance plan which President Eisenhower proposed last year and which Congress turned down will be resubmitted as a $100 million authorization, with a requested $25 million for the first year's operation.

THE PROGRAM IS BASICALLY the same as last year. It is intended to encourage private insurance companies to develop new health insurance policies with reduced premiums. This is the Republican administration's counter-proposal to the Democratic proposals for compulsory federal health insurance.

Under the GOP plan, the government would insure the insurance companies against possible losses in bringing private health insurance policies to rural areas and to older people not now covered by the regular insurance companies. Also, there would be reinsurance for new types of policies covering long illnesses.

The new program to provide medical care for the needy aged, dependent children, the blind and the permanently disabled is estimated to cost $20 million the first year.

President Eisenhower covered this in only two paragraphs in his special message, but it is a complicated thing.

TODAY'S TOTAL OF OVER five million public assistance cases costing $200 million a month is divided roughly 50-50 by U. S. and State governments. Not all of these cases need medical assistance.

President Eisenhower therefore proposes that the federal government appropriate up to $3 a month, to be matched by $3 a month of state expenditures, for every adult public assistance case requiring medical care, the federal grant would be $1.50 a month to match every $1.50 spent on dependent child medical care by the states.

The new program, which would put the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the business of insuring mortgages on new hospitals and other health facilities, will require an initial appropriation of $10.5 million. This will provide capitalization and set up a revolving fund for operations. The insurance premiums will be one per cent of the insured portion of the mortgage, which will be less than the total cost.

A dozen additional minor health programs mentioned in the President's special message will cost an estimated total of $16 million the first year. With the exception of a $3 million request for grants-in-aid to the states to combat juvenile delinquency, mentioned in the budget message, there is no other breakdown.

THE OTHER PROGRAMS TO BE proposed in specific legislation to be submitted later by the administration will cover these fields:

Improved grants-in-aid for mothers and crippled children.

Five-year grants to the states for vocational training in practical nursing. Specialized training for Public Health Service officers, graduate nurses and mental disease specialists. Increased benefits for PHS officers. Consolidation of state public health programs to bring them under one grant.

A four-point program to promote mental health care.

Stepped up research on air pollution. Strengthening and renewal of the water pollution act which expires June 30, 1956. Continued support for World Health Organization.

Both men entered the apartment. "Miss Cummings," Johnny said promptly, "you know that you're responsible for furniture and glass breakage."

"That's right," the girl said, looking at Kilkenny. "I'm in enough trouble with the apartment house people right now. They've given me notice to move."

"Don't crowd me," Kilkenny said to Johnny. "I've lost my job on account of you."

"Which job?" Johnny asked. "You know which job," snarled Kilkenny. "The one with the Acme Adjustment Agency."

"Good. That'll be a load off Sam's mind. He won't have to worry about that old mandolin rap. I thought maybe you were referring to the other job," Johnny indicated Alice Cummings.

Alice Cummings flared. "Have you brought those coins, Fletcher?"

"If you've got the $17 ready," she got her purse from a table and opened it.

Johnny said, "I warn you, you're losing money on the deal."

"I want what's mine, that's all," Johnny shrugged. He reached deep into his trousers pocket and brought out the handful of pennies and dimes. He held them out to Alice Cummings. She put the $17 in bills on the table and cupped both hands to take the coins.

Johnny, looking closely, saw that her nostrils were wide and that she was breathing heavily with suppressed excitement.

"And now, Mr. Fletcher," Alice Cummings said coldly, "I've seen enough of you to last me for some time."

"Well," said Johnny, "I'd like to talk to you a moment—alone."

"I have nothing to say to you," Alice put it this way. "Johnny said, 'You made an arrangement with our friend Kilkenny here to, ah, retrieve a certain object from my hotel room. A goose bank.'"

"Beat it, Fletcher," snarled Kilkenny.

"Your cheap hoods ripped up my room," Johnny went on calmly. "They didn't have to do that to find the bank, because it was handy. But they didn't want the bank alone—they were looking for something that had been in the bank."

"Breakage or no breakage," Kilkenny said thickly. His hands came up and he started for Johnny.

"Here goes the furniture," Johnny warned.

"Stop it, you two," cried Alice Cummings. "If you have to fight wait until you're outside."

"You heard the boss, buster," Johnny said.

Kilkenny stopped.

Johnny pointed at Alice Cummings.

"The real reason I came over is because a certain party came to see me. He said you'd telephoned him and offered to sell him something. Do you know who I mean?" he demanded.

She hesitated, then her eyes went to Kilkenny. "Why don't you come back in a half hour?"

"I'm here now," Kilkenny said bluntly. "You're not going to pull a fast one on me."

"You'll get your money," Alice said, beginning to show her claws to the former bill collector.

"I don't think Fletcher knows anything. He's got a big mouth, that's all. He'll make you think black is white and steal the fillings out of your teeth."

"I like you too, J. J.," Johnny said.

Kilkenny bared his teeth, but suddenly wheeled toward the door. "I'll be back in a half hour and I'm warning you, don't try any double-cross on me." He went out.

Johnny said, "Carmichael, Senior, I'm working for him."

"You? You're nothing but a two-bit chiseler and sharp shooter."

"Baby," said Johnny gently, "that's tough talk. You're too beautiful for talk like that. Why, you're the sort of doll I could go for myself . . . If I could afford it."

"I could go for you, too," Alice conceded. "If you had enough of what it takes. But since you haven't—"

"Has Flanagan got it?"

The name rocked her back on her heels. "Who?"

"Harry Flanagan, the one and only."

That did it. Alice flew at Johnny. She struck him a stinging slap on the face. "You got everything you could out of Jess Carmichael and then when he buttoned up his wallet you were through with him. Or maybe he caught you and your fine Harry Flanagan together . . ."

The new trend frightened Alice

Cummings out of her blind rage. "Harry didn't kill him. He didn't. I know he didn't."

"He's got a good chance of frying for it."

"No! You're wrong. You — you mustn't put the police on Harry. He had nothing to do with it." She ran forward, toward the table on which she had deposited the coins Johnny had given her. "It's here — Jess told me. He gave me the bank and he told me that if anything happened to him to give the bank to his father. He said that the old man would know who — who hurt him."

"There was no note inside the bank, I looked."

"You said Carmichael came to you about my call."

"He said you tried to shake him down."

"That's a lie. It said in the paper he'd spend his last dollar to find the person who murdered his son. Fifty thousand isn't anything to me. I wanted to give him the name of the murderer. Jess said it was in the bank."

Farmers Will Get Crop Questionnaires

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government will mail questionnaires to nearly 70,000 farmers in all parts of the country next week asking them what crops, and how much of each, they plan to grow this year.

The farmer-recipients, who serve as unpaid crop reporters for the Agriculture Department, will be asked to state specifically what their plans are as of March 1.

The department will use the returned questionnaires to prepare its spring report on farmers' planting intentions. This report serves as an important guidepost for the government in determining farm policies, and also furnishes individual farmers with information on what other farmers plan to do.

Often these reports, by showing an unexpectedly large prospective increase in plantings of one or more crops, influence some farmers to change their plans, lest they get caught producing a crop likely to be grown in price-depressing quantities.

Federal programs this year call for a cutback of around 30 million acres in cash crops from the level of 1953, the last year farmers were free of major federal production control measures.

Results of the survey will be compiled and released to the public on March 18.

Department officials will be interested especially in crop plans of farmers in the southern Great Plains, where a four-year drought persists. Reports to the department indicate that severe dust storms and land damage may occur in this region again this spring. They were particularly damaging last year.

Developments in this area — which includes western Texas, eastern New Mexico, western Oklahoma, western Kansas, eastern

DAILY PRESS

LIQUIDATION STATEMENT

The owners of the Hewett Grocery Company have begun a systematic liquidation. The present owners, being the surviving partners, regret having to make this decision after servicing the Upper Peninsula of Michigan for over 40 years. The present operation involves branches at Escanaba, Ishpeming, Manistique and Sault Ste Marie, all of which are being liquidated at this time. Another branch at Iron River, Michigan was closed a year ago.

We wish to express our thanks to our many loyal customers of long standing for their patronage. We also desire to thank all our faithful employees, especially those managers and employees who have been so instrumental in the development of our company. It is our intention to give them every consideration.

A need for a change in methods of operating, requiring the outlay of considerable capital, to meet the requirements of present business methods is the main reason for discontinuing our operation.

More than $1,000,000 a week will be returned to Northwestern Mutual policyholders in dividends this year

New dividend brings policyholders' cost lower than ever—continues this company's outstanding reputation for low net cost life insurance.

IT'S been a good year for Northwestern Mutual. There were fewer death claims than expected. Earnings from investments held up well. And the company's traditional economies of operation have, as always, brought large savings. Hence, the new dividend rate, which results in an even lower net cost of life insurance for our policyholders.

It's easy to see why Northwestern Mutual policyholders are so loyal — why almost half of the new insurance we issue goes to people who already are policyholders.

Would you like a copy of our Annual Report? It tells a story that should interest every family man who must buy life insurance wisely and well. It is the story of one of the oldest and largest life insurance companies whose reputation for service and helpfulness to its policyholders is unexcelled in the business.

"I Beheld His Glory" is the story of the life of Jesus as told by Cornelius the centurion, who learned from his friend Thomas and others the details of the events concerning the Triumphal Entry, the Last Supper, Gethsemane, the Trial, Crucifixion and Resurrection.

A fellowship hour will be held after the evening showing.

World Day Of Prayer First Friday In Lent

The 68th annual World Day of Prayer, in which Americans in an estimated 20,000 communities once again will join with their fellow Christians in 125 countries will be held on its traditional date, the first Friday of Lent, which this year is Feb. 25.

The service in Escanaba, which is being arranged by the Council of Church Women, will be held at 2:30 p. m., at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. Mrs. William Leiper heads the Council and Mrs. Benjamin Johns is chairman of the program for the day.

The theme of the 1955 services is "Abide in Me," John 15:4.

United Church Women
Observances in the United States are sponsored by the Department of United Church Women—a general department of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. The offering taken at services in this country is divided equally between the Division of Foreign Missions and the Division of Home Missions of the National Council and is used for interdenominational mission projects.

In many of the U. S. communities which observe the day, the event has grown beyond the regular women's service to bring together a wide variety of community groups. Daylight services are conducted in factories; businessmen plan special office services; schools, colleges and hospitals set aside a time for group prayer during the day. In addition, many community service groups, fraternal, social, and civic organizations participate. In preparation for the 1955 observance special committees have been organized in thousands of communities.

Now an international event, the World Day of Prayer dates back to 1887 when a Presbyterian woman in Boston called for a nationwide day of prayer for home missions. In 1920 the idea was adopted in Canada and seven years later, at the request of Christian leaders in other lands, it became a world-wide observance.

The day's services begin as the sun rises on the Tonga Islands and continue around the globe until darkness settles over Alaska twenty-four hours later with the final observance held on St. Lawrence Island.

Written By Women
The service is written each year by a woman or group of women from a different nation, then is adapted and translated into scores of tongues and into Braille. The service this year was prepared by Miss Joregelina Lozada, of Buenos Aires, Argentina, a minister of the Disciples of Christ. One of her country's ecumenical leaders, Miss Lozada is the secretary of religious education of the Confederation of Evangelical Churches in Argentina.

Central to the service is the prayer for understanding among all peoples, for the growth of the Christian church around the world and for world peace. It stresses the unity of all Christians through prayer, separated by geographical and national boundaries.

Interdenominational projects in this country supported by the offering include a Christian education program in fourteen government Indian schools, a training program for American Indian Christian leaders at Cook Training School, Phoenix, Ariz., and church and community work among Indians in industrial centers. Money also goes to aid programs in low-income farm communities and to the National Council's ministry to migrants. It also supports the work of the committee on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students which provide services to an estimated 30,000 students each year.

Work Abroad
Abroad, the money is used for providing a program of Christian literature and literacy for women and children in India, Burma, Japan, Egypt, Africa and Latin America. It is used also to help support the educational program for Christian leaders in many of the world-famous interdenominational Christian colleges in the Orient.

Mrs. Miriam Libby Evans, national director of the World Day of Prayer, in announcing plans for the 1955 observance said it is hoped that "the sense of personal mission of each one of us who prays and who gives will be expressed throughout the rest of the year in the many opportunities for service to our churches, to our communities and to the strangers in our communities who wait for our understanding and an invitation of welcome in our churches and our homes. Thus the kingdom of heaven on earth for which we pray comes closer."

Panel Discussion At Bethany Brotherhood

A panel discussion on the topic "Should Augustana Re-enter the Lutheran Merger?" will be held at a meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of Bethany Lutheran Church Monday at 8 p. m. in the church parlors. On the panel will be Pastors Clifford Peterson of Gladstone, Wilbert Johnson, Rapid River, and Frank Peterson of Escanaba. Program chairman is Dr. Roy B. Johnson. The lunch committee is N. E. Nelson, Francis Thomas, Anton Holmes, Gust Anderson and Robert Cook.

Rock

ROCK — The biology class of the Rock High School made a trip to the Pinecrest sanatorium at Powers and the orthopedic classes for handicapped children at the Escanaba Junior High School Wednesday. They were accompanied by Robert Ferguson.

Dr. James Dehlin will speak at the Rock PTA meeting Feb. 28. His topic will be "Nation's No. 1 Killer in Childhood." The public is welcome.

Walter Mannite attended the board of directors meeting at Pinecrest Sanatorium Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Wiinikka and Mrs. Paul Salo of Detroit visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wiinikka recently.

Mrs. Walter Mannite has returned home after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evinger at East Lansing.

Boy Scouts
The Rock Boy Scouts received their community stripes and troop number badges at the meeting Thursday evening. The Scouts also participated in the honoring of the parents of the varsity basketball team Friday evening at the Rock High School.

Larena Norton, Vernie L. Miron Are Wed Today

St. Joseph Church, Perkins, was the setting for the wedding today of Miss Larena Mary Norton, and Vernie L. Miron, Perkins, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Miron.

The Rev. Edward Malloy officiated at the Nuptial High Mass before an altar adorned with mixed floral bouquets. The Wedding March by Rossini, music of the Mass in honor of St. Angela and the offertory hymn, "Ave Maria," were played.

Attendants of the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fuhrman. The bride wore a cadet blue wool suit with powder blue accessories complemented by a corsage of red roses. A navy dress with light blue accessories was worn by the matron of honor. Her corsage was fashioned of red roses.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Agnes Peterson, for 30 guests. Mrs. Ernest Carlson assisted in the serving.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the newlyweds will reside at Rock.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Norton and son, Patrick, and Mr. and Mrs. James Brady and daughter, Ellen, DePere, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nelson, Gladstone, Mr. and Mrs. Levi LeVergne, Plymouth, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wick, Cornell.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of Chicago are the parents of a son, who was born Feb. 17. Mrs. Sullivan is the former Ursula McLaughlin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaughlin, 11th Ave. South, City.

Forty Hours Will Open Sunday At Spalding Church

St. Francis Xavier Church, Spalding, will observe Forty Hours Devotion Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 20, 21 and 22.

Masses Monday and Tuesday will be at 7 a. m., 8 a. m., and 9 a. m., EST. The evening devotions will be at 8. The Rev. Joseph Dunleavy of St. George's Church, Bark River, will deliver the sermons.

At the High Mass Sunday morning, the Blessed Sacrament will be exposed on the altar for adoration of the faithful throughout the three days.

Confessions will be heard Sunday between 4 p. m. and 5 p. m., after the evening devotions and before Masses in the morning. Opportunity for strange confessors of different languages will be given.

The Forty Hours Devotion will close Tuesday evening. The closing service will include singing of the Litany of Saints and a procession through the church with the Blessed Sacrament. Altar boys, members of Holy Name Society and priests of neighboring parishes will act as an escort.

Rotary Jubilee Ladies' Night Dinner Tuesday

The Rotary Club will observe its Golden Anniversary Tuesday, Feb. 22, with a Ladies' Night dinner meeting at the Delta Hotel. A cocktail hour will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. Dinner will be served at 7:30.

Program of the evening will be presented by Rotarians. Chairman of the affair is Francis C. Boyce. Others on the committee are Frank W. Andrew, Carl W. Lenzinger, the Rev. Joseph Dickson, Robert Losse and Robert Mosenfelder.

Add drained crushed pineapple and grated cheddar cheese to mayonnaise; thin with a little lemon juice and add a sprinkle of paprika for color. Serve over avocado crescents on crisp romaine.

Sunnyside PTA Hears Reports And Founders' Program

The Sunnyside Parent Teacher Association of Bark River held its February meeting Wednesday evening at the school.

At the business meeting it was reported that the quarry across from the Bark River Junior High School will be filled in this spring by the township and county boards, and that the kitchen of the school has been cleaned and redecorated by a committee composed of Mrs. Hildur Olson, Mrs. Carl Koukel, Mrs. Mary Olson and Mrs. Harold Berquist.

A voluntary nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the coming year includes Mrs. Jack Krause, Mrs. Roger Quist and Mrs. Carl Ahlin.

A Founders' Day program included a poem by Mrs. Krause and a reading on the history of the PTA by Mrs. Ahlin, Mrs. Ray Meyers and Mrs. Krause.

A box social with Roger Quist leader, was held after the program.

A tossed green salad is just right to serve with spaghetti. To serve with spaghetti. To serve four, use a quart of loosely packed greens and 1/4 to 1/3 cup French dressing. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Right Glue Makes Tight Fits Sure In Home Projects

STICK-TO-ITIVENESS is not always a desirable trait. Postmen resent it in dogs. Dogs despise it in cats. Cats loathe it in children. But people demand it where glue is concerned. (Okay, so it is a roundabout way to get on the subject of glue.)

Trouble is, adhesive refuse to take orders from people. They do a job for us on one condition—that we use 'em where, when and how they are meant to be used. If that condition is met, glued joints promise to be stronger than the materials they join.

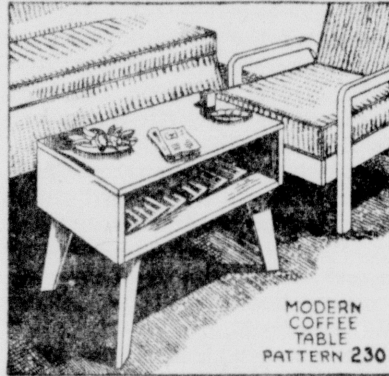

Obviously, you cannot hope to glue a permanent patch on a rubber boot using a water-soluble cement. But by now someone has probably tried to, which isn't surprising because most folks aren't very well informed about adhesives. There are many. Let's take a look at some of the prominent ones.

Liquid Animal and Fish Glue—Primarily used in furniture and cabinet work, and for gluing general woodwork items. Not water-resistant, it should not be used on outdoor furniture or anything likely to be exposed to water or dampness. Easy to use, dries in 12 to 24 hours, strong, fills cracks and gaps in rough joints, resists heat. Warm it if it's to be used in cool location, then spread it on both surfaces, allow to get tacky before joining and clamping pieces.

Flake Animal Glue—Similar to

MODERN COFFEE TABLE PATTERN 230

The top of this coffee table is nineteen by thirty inches. The magazine shelf is open on both sides so that the top may be kept free for a colorful bouquet of flowers or things that are in use. The pieces are all square cuts made with a hand saw except the legs which are tapered slightly on the inner edge to give the table that modern touch. Its lines are so simple that it harmonizes with other furniture of different periods. By following the step-by-step sketches on pattern 230 the week-end furniture builder will find this table easy to make. The pattern is 25c if ordered separately or it is included in the packet of patterns for utility tables for $1 postpaid.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

MODERN VENTILATION makes an interior kitchen practicable for this unusual plan suitable for different exterior treatments. This can be a contemporary house with butterfly roof, or a more conventional ranch style. Three bedrooms and two bathrooms are completely segregated from living quarters, which include an informal activity room. This is Plan 216 by Paul T. Haagen, 360 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Ill. (AP Newfeatures) the above, except that it must be used hot (not over 150 degrees F.), which makes it inconvenient for anything but large-quantity work. Warm joint with heat lamp, coat pieces and assemble quickly before glue jells.

Powdered Casein Glue—For general woodwork, it's quite strong and fairly water-resistant, but should not be used on outdoor furniture. It must be mixed with water before each use, leaves a dark stain on wood, but dries in two to four hours. Plan the job so that glue can be applied, parts aligned and clamped within 15 minutes. Apply thick film, wipe off excess.

Resorcinol Resin Glue—Waterproof and very strong, it is suitable for outdoor furniture, for boat building and other objects likely to be water-soaked. It comes as dark liquid with powder catalyst which must be intermixed carefully and used in warm locations. Heat lamp speeds setting, but ordinarily drying time is eight to ten hours. Apply thin film to both pieces and clamp immediately.

Polyvinyl Glue—For light work, including model and hobby jobs, small wood assemblies, gluing paper, fabrics, leather, etc. It's not suitable for anything requiring resistance to stress, water, high temperatures or work involving metal parts. But it comes ready to use, dries in 20 to 30 minutes and is colorless. Apply and put under pressure at once.

Plastic Resin Glue—For use in furniture building, repairing and veneering. Completely waterproof, it's very strong but should not be used on poorly fitting joints, especially if not clamped. It requires heavy clamping pressure in warm locations and dries

Pamper Corner Can Be Fixed Up As Powder Room

EVERY HOUSEWIFE deserves a pamper corner. This should be a spot that can be used by her and her friends just for glamor. The little nook should have a place for powder and puff, pins and stuff—all the things a girl enjoys for primping.

Sure it is fine to have a vanity table in your bedroom, but much more cosy to have one in a little secluded spot that friends can enjoy too when they come to visit. Look around for waste space. You may find it behind a staircase, a foyer outside the bathroom door or even in a closet.

IF YOU have your own closet you (or a cooperative husband) can fix up a little pamper spot this way: Put a plate glass mirror panel on the inside of the closet door. A shelf made in a half-moon shape at your local lumber yard may be attached with brackets to the door just below mirror. You can have it covered with a glass or painted a bright color. Hang an attractive skirt around it. Put some pockets in the skirt to hold everything from hair pins to curlers.

Behind the skirt place some hooks for shoes. If there is enough space left so that dresses will not be crushed when the door is closed, additional narrow shelves may be put behind the skirt on the door to hold boxes, belts, etc.

A very attractive and cozy little powder spot may be made behind a flight of stairs. The entire area might be wallpapered or painted for extra charm. A fluorescent light above the table can give adequate light. The bench or chair used with the little vanity should also be a storage unit. It can hold endless useful paraphanelia from strings of beads to a home permanent wave kit.

WHEREVER the vanity table is, there should be a feeling of privacy. When you curl your lashes you'll want to feel it is your little secret. Ditto that hair tinting job. As a matter of fact it might not be a bad idea to keep your cosmetics secrets under lock and key, away from the youngsters if not the prying eyes of others.

One of the good reasons for having your vanity table out of the bedroom, too, is to get it out of the way. Husbands have a way of picking on vanity tables, especially when they do not have

Pinecrest Sanatorium Laboratory Guards Public Health In This Area

By J. R. LOWELL

Those who give only casual attention to the matter seem to be of the opinion that Pinecrest Sanatorium at Powers is an institution devoted exclusively to the treatment of tuberculosis. And, in a certain sense, these people are correct because the sanatorium is given over to the care of people afflicted with this malady.

But in the same building that houses the sanatorium is another unit of the Michigan Department of Public Health that intimately touches the life of every man, woman and child in a nine-county area regardless of whether that individual be healthy or ailing.

This unit is a laboratory dedicated to the safeguarding of public health in nine Upper Michigan counties, namely: Menominee, Chippewa, Delta, Mackinac, Alger, Schoolcraft, Luce, Dickinson and Iron.

Renders Impressive Service
It is at this laboratory that milk sold in these counties is subjected to careful periodic tests, sanitary conditions in restaurants, public dining rooms and taverns passed on and water supplies examined. It is also here that vaccines and toxoids for prevention of communicable diseases are provided. And these are scores of other services performed there in the interest of public health.

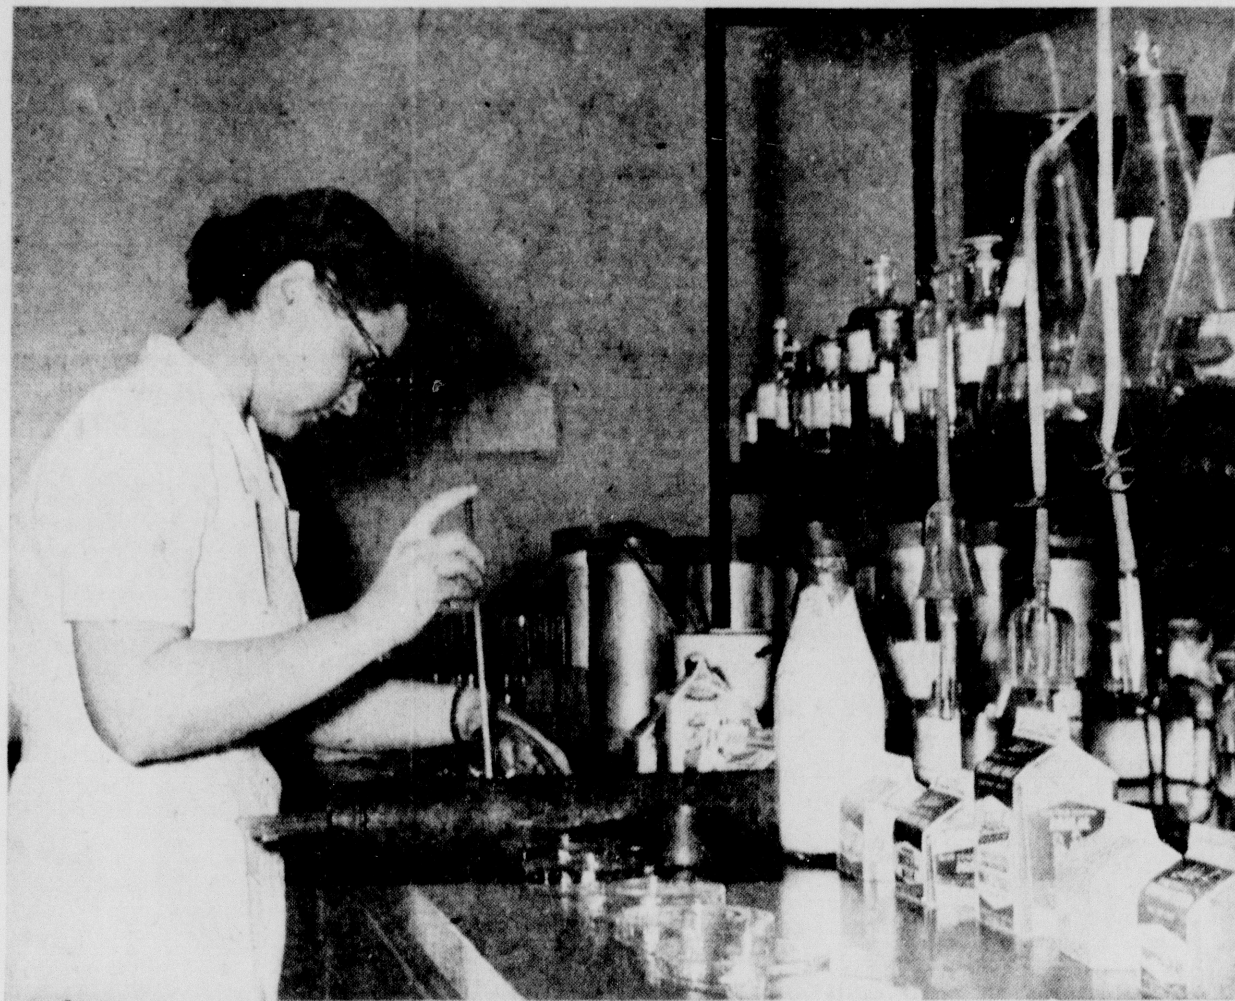

Ten technicians and clerks, specializing in varied types of work are employed, five large rooms and numerous refrigerators, incubators and other smaller spaces are used and there appears to be no stint in the provision of most modern and efficient equipment. Some idea of the scope of the work may be derived from the fact that 655,000 pieces of glassware are kept on hand. The number of different services performed is also impressive.

While it would be hard to determine what might be the most important service performed by this unit, it is safe to say that its safeguarding of our milk and water supplies affects the personal lives of most of us.

At regular intervals county sanitarians bring in bottled and packaged samples of milk and milk products for testing. The tests are made to determine the bacteria count and the amount of butterfat the milk contains.

Samples Analyzed
These samples are submitted at regular intervals and the findings are promptly returned to the sanitarians. The sanitarians, in turn, submit the findings to county health authorities and in cases where tests indicate unsatisfactory conditions, the sanitarian is instructed to trace the milk supplies to their original sources and these tests are then submitted. The laboratory has made 6,670 separate milk tests since last July 1, the start of the fiscal year.

Sanitarians from time to time submit samples bearing on sanitary conditions in restaurants and taverns. These specimens consist of swabs and smears from dishes, cooking utensils, dish and glass washing equipment, glasses and cups, etc. The need for such checkups is obvious. There have been 1,199 of these tests made since July 1.

In both of these cases, as in all other tests made, the laboratory reports only its findings; recommendations for action are left entirely with the health authorities.

Samples of water from cities and towns in the nine counties are regularly received at the laboratory at a rate of about 400 samples per month.

Aid In Epidemic Curbs
Samples bearing on dysentery and intestinal infections, submitted by county health doctors with a view of isolating causes that threaten to become epidemic are also received in great numbers at the laboratory.

Public health officials view this problem with more than usual concern. Dr. Marian G. Sprick, in charge of laboratory activities at Powers, states that since last July, 2,159 examinations for organisms causing intestinal disturbances have been made. There have been 82 isolations of organisms which caused bacillary dysentery and 22 isolations of Salmonella species. Organisms of this Salmonella species causes acute enteric fevers and typhoid fevers, Dr. Sprick explains. Only three isolations of S. typhi from typhoid carriers were found and these have been no new cases of typhoid fever diagnosed, she adds.

Blood tests for RH factor are also, along with blood grouping, among the highly important services the laboratory performs. In the period since July 1, 2,935 RH tests have been made. Also during that period 2,196 blood grouping tests were made. Anti RH titer are sent to the state laboratory at Lansing.

Laboratory tests touching on venereal diseases are also made at the laboratory. Doctors of the area, cooperating with county health agencies, are instructed to clear all tests through the sanatorium laboratory. The blood tests required of all marriage license applicants in the area are also cleared through the laboratory.

Provides Vaccines, Toxoids
And of course, the needs of Pinecrest Sanatorium represents a sizeable portion of the work mapped out for the lab each day.

Laboratory testing, however, is but a part of the service provided by this institution. Cooperating actively with doctors in the area, the laboratory serves as a distributing point for biological products such as vaccines and toxoids. More than 30 items are available for distribution to health units and for use when required for medical purposes in general.

The largest items in this category are triple vaccine (for diphtheria and whooping cough), smallpox vaccine and tetanus toxoid.

Firefly's Glow Is Courtship Notice
WASHINGTON—Winged creatures have many ways of saying "I Love You."

An owl's hoot, a firefly's glow, a penguin with a stone in its bill all manifest Nature's vast diversity, says the National Geographic Society.

Usually the male does the seeking, but not always. For instance, the female phalarope (a small shore bird) presses courtship on the smaller, less brightly colored male. After mating and egg-laying, she leaves. The male incubates the eggs and brings up the offspring.

The male penguin takes hours-long beach strolls with his mating prospect. Finally, he offers a stone. If the female takes it in her bill, she signifies approval.

An Elaborate Present
A fancier gift is presented by the male Hilaria fly. On the wing he spins a fluffy balloonlike mass and gives it to a chosen female. She examines it, sometimes takes it, sometimes leaves it.

Perched at night together, the male owl hoots affectionately at his ladylove. Shortly the pair starts billing. Later both hoot. As the first streaks of daylight appear the female must decide. If receptive, she changes the tone of her hoot. They bill again and fly off together.

Poor vision handicaps the white cabbage butterfly in its erratic mating flight. Sometimes it hovers over a white daisy only to discover its error when less than a foot away.

Rivalry Among Birds
In the bird world competition is keen. To outbid other suitors, many birds resort to gifts as a lure. The male common tern holds a fish crosswise in its beak. The black-crowned night heron gathers twigs and offers them both as gift and as an obvious hint. He seems to hope they will inspire the female to find more twigs for a nest.

The reproductive instinct sets fireflies aglow. Flashing signals lead one to another. An Eastern firefly lights up when making a sharp dip. It rises and then turns off its lamp. From a grass blade below, a female makes a quick decision. She usually flashes her answer in two seconds.

Blood products available for distribution include anti-hemophilic globulin, fibrinogen and plasma.

Extra Services
And yet, in spite of the multiplicity of tasks that become the everyday chore of the 10 employees of the laboratory, they have accepted and performed extra work in the cause of public health that has been well beyond their prescribed duties.

Outstanding among these was the checkup made on the employees of the Munising Paper Company about a year ago. Particularly noteworthy in this case is the fact that this is the first multiphasic screening program ever conducted in the state of Michigan. Under the direction of Dr. R. A. Tiernan, Alger-Schoolcraft Health Director, the survey was made with about 450 employees participating. Hemoglobin delineation and physical examinations were made in Munising. Laboratory tests of both blood and urine chemical and microscopic—were made at Powers.

Since that survey was made, three have been made in the same manner, at three large industrial plants in Lower Michigan.

Each sample and specimen submitted to the laboratory for checkup is regarded by the employees as a matter of serious importance to some person or group. The handling of these specimens and the reports concerning them are attended to on an absolutely fool-proof basis. Every report filed is run through an Ozolid machine which makes a positive photostatic copy of it. One of these copies is sent to the one forwarding the specimen and the other is placed on file in the laboratory.

A thought provoking notice is placed at several vantage points throughout the laboratory. Its import is to this effect: All reports handled by the laboratory are regarded as strictly confidential. Any violation of this code is regarded as grounds for prompt dismissal.

Northern Michigan College Alumni Plan Memorial To Prof. G. L. Brown

MARQUETTE—A living monument to the late Prof. Gilbert Lee Brown is shortly to be erected by the alumni of Northern Michigan College of Education to honor a man who had not only made untold personal contributions to education and psychology but also inspired others to devote their time to advancing cultural and mental development.

The monument will take the form of a scholarship fund to be administered by the college faculty and to be awarded annually to the student who shows greatest promise in Prof. Brown's chosen fields.

Walter F. Gries of Negaunee heads the committee of alumni who are contacting every known Northern graduate to solicit aid in making the fund possible.

Retired In 1946
Prior to his retirement in 1946, Prof. Brown headed the department of education and psychology at Northern where he initiated many of the courses now being offered and where he transformed an academic subject of two courses into a practical field encompassing those studies which would be of most value to students entering teaching, social work, guidance and any profession where an understanding of man is important.

Coming to Marquette in 1911, Prof. Brown quickly instituted a course in abnormal psychology in which students studied mental disorders and their causes, and learned how to detect maladjustments and what help is available for those with personality disorders.

Shortly after the course was begun, he took his students on field trips, and one of the places visited was the state hospital at Newberry.

While touring the hospital, he was appalled to note the many college graduates among the inmates.

To remedy the situation, for which he felt a personal responsibility, he persuaded the administration to offer a course in mental hygiene, the first in a Michigan college. He was justifiably proud that no student taking the course has ever developed a mental disorder, a fact recently testified to by Dr. W. H. Campbell, former superintendent of the state hospital.

A Helping Hand
His helping hand was extended not only to students, but also to former students. During the period of World War I he investigated the reasons why a large percentage of rural teachers desired to get into city school systems as soon as possible.

NEW STAMP—This 60-lire stamp, honoring the Marian Year, has just been issued by Italian postal authorities. The blue stamp depicts "The Madonna of Pity" from a marble group of Michelangelo, now in St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

FOUNDER FRANK
Kentucky's capital, Frankfort, is named for Stephen Frank, pioneer, who was killed by Indians while camping near a ford of the Kentucky River at the city's site.

After graduation, he taught school in order to finance college

In his report, Prof. Brown stated that in certain parts of Michigan intolerable conditions were surprisingly common. He was one of the first to demonstrate the need for an improvement in the teacher's lot.

He was also one of the first to introduce mental testing in schools at a time when psychometrics were still only a topic for discussion in most colleges.

In 1916 he administered an intelligence test to students in the John D. Pierce training school, and since 1922 every Northern student has received similar tests.

Mental Hygiene
Prof. Brown recognized early the importance of awakening the public and teaching profession to realization of the value of mental hygiene knowledge. He worked for an organized study of the subject in the Upper Peninsula, a field in which he was one of a handful of pioneers.

It was through his insistence that the Upper Peninsula Society for the Study and Advancement of Mental Hygiene was organized in 1936. Its objective has been to arouse interest in the subject, direct effort towards preventing mental disorders and to provide training in the solving of mental difficulties.

The first such organization in Michigan, the society, was later assimilated by a state-wide group in which it still is the most active chapter.

Prof. Brown also one of the few who saw a need for the establishment of a child guidance center in Marquette to serve the needs of the Upper Peninsula. He was a member of the original board of directors and of the organization committee which helped bring here the fifth such clinic in Michigan where 16 are now in operation.

Student Of Psychology
Center personnel have stated they will forever remember the man upon whom they continually relied for guidance.

Born in Cooksville, Ohio, he learned first the potter's trade making vases and jars by hand until he had earned enough to put himself through high school.

After graduation, he taught school in order to finance college study. Enrolling at Ohio Northern University, with the intention of pursuing history, he was introduced to psychology — and was soon engrossed in its study.

Psychology became his profession and his hobby. He studied at the Universities of Wisconsin, Michigan, and Harvard, and when not in school, he studied those about him.

Nationality characteristics especially fascinated him, and, with his background of history, he delighted in amazing students by walking into class for the first time, pointing to each student in turn and announcing what religion the student practiced. He seldom erred.

Trend Of Students
He came to Northern in 1911 and two years later was department head, a capacity in which he served until 1946 when he retired. But while retirement divested him of profession, he still clung to his hobby, remaining active in committee work, writing and speaking right up to his death last fall.

When he came to Northern the school offered no guidance services for its students, but Prof. Brown soon assumed that responsibility, in an unofficial capacity, as his students often relied upon him for advice in personal problems.

The number that came to him was one of the provocations that led to the establishment of the U. P. Mental Hygiene Society, which worked through the public school systems.

Not only did he manage to give aid to those with personal difficulties, but he inspired many more to continue his work. Countless of his former students have gone into mental health work, a fitting tribute in itself.

There was no end to his energies. To compensate for the human limitations on personal contact, Prof. Brown wrote articles in education and psychology journals promoting ideas he thought worthwhile and condemning practices he felt non-constructive.

The fact that so many of his advanced ideas are now common practice is evidence that a "living memorial" already stands to honor Gilbert Brown.

Typatune Plays Music With Typewriter Keys

ROCK — Everyone's familiar with the typewriter, but how many have heard of a typatune?

Robert Weingartner of Rock has never seen one until before Christmas when he was in Chicago. Upon seeing it, he thought it would make unique Christmas presents for Mrs. Weingartner, since she already knew typing.

It looks like a small portable typewriter, except upon tapping the keys, one finds it does not write letters, though it has the same standard keyboard, but sends forth beautiful musical notes that sound very much like chime bells.

How does one go about playing a tune on a typatune? Each letter or key represents a note. Anyone knowing the art of typing can easily follow the charts like typing charts and play tunes like Swanee River, Yankee Doodle, Silent Night and other numbers which are in the accompanying Dale Weingartner, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weingartner is shown here with the Typatune. Dale can't play this instrument yet but he surely can make noise with it.

You Can't Stop Progress, Straits Skipper Says Of Bridge Project

CHEBOYGAN—Captain "Puddy" has a pat answer for anyone who wants to argue the merits of the Straits of Mackinaw bridge. "You can't stop progress," is his authoritative answer.

Captain "Puddy" is Emile Potvin, a 67-year-old seafarer who has probably crossed the Straits of Mackinaw more times than any resident of the state. He started in 1904, and he's still hanging around.

He's served as captain of every state ferry but the Vacationland that is on the run now. Many of today's ferry officials received their marine licenses while serving under him. Capt. Puddy made his first run across the Straits on a tugboat in 1904—his last run was made at the helm of the tug B. E. West as the bridge builders were publishing their equipment off the Straits on January 14, 1955.

Bridge Only Answer

"I've seen traffic pile up steadily, year after year," he said, "I was skipper of the St. Ignace, the Straits of Mackinaw, the City of Cheboygan, the Munising, and the City of Petoskey before I retired in 1948. Every time a new boat was added to the run it was supposed to take care of traffic demands for years to come. They never did. They said the City of Petoskey would handle all the peak loads. Then they said the same thing about the Vacationland. Last year's deer season saw the lines longer than ever.

"More ships on the run would mean more maintenance bills. You couldn't just go on building more and more ferries. The bridge was the only answer, and I'm glad that it will be built. You can't stop progress."

Capt. Puddy was aboard a craft in 1911 that started hauling the first autos across the Straits, before the state highway department started ferry service. And in the next 24 years he served as mate and captain for a variety of shipping enterprises whose operations took him back and forth across and through the Straits. He skippered a ferry to Mackinaw Island for four years.

Long Career on Lakes
In 1915 he hauled stone from Bruce Mines, Canada, to the Soo

WAYFARER OF THE STRAITS—Captain Puddy (Emile Potvin) of Cheboygan, widely known former captain of the Straits ferries and now working to build the Mackinaw Straits bridge, stands at the helm of the tug B. E. West on the final run of the bridge construction season.

for the construction work of the fourth lock. During World War I he was engaged in towing huge rafts of logs from Crow River and Deperets, Canada to Marquette.

"Sometimes the trip would take us as long as 45 days," he said. In more than 50 years Captain Puddy has engaged in every type of marine activity on the Great Lakes. He's worked for the Great Lakes Towing company, the Great Lakes Dock and Dredging company, served on passenger ships, fish tugs, and sailing vessels. He started with the state ferry service in 1935.

Following his retirement in 1948, he stayed ashore for a time taking only occasional trips to keep his license in force until he returned to the lakes as a "toiler of the deep" with the Merritt-Chapman, Scott concern, builders of the bridge foundation.

While the veteran skipper is "drydocked" until ice clears the Straits in the spring, he keeps busy doing the interior carpentry on the new home he has just built here.

"Go to Florida for the winter?" he remarked, "Huh, I'm staying right here to finish this house myself. You can't stop progress."

How To Handle Property Sales

(Sixth of 12 articles)
By RICHARD A. MULLEN
Written for NEA Service

Let's now take up Schedule D accompanying Form 1040 where you report gains and losses from sales or exchanges of property. The average taxpayer seldom has to use this schedule. Possibly for this reason, there is no place to report sales of property on Form 1040A.

If you had one or more of the following transactions in 1954, you will have to fill out what is called "Separate Schedule D" and file it along with Form 1040:

1. Sale of your home, car, household furnishings, jewelry, or other personal property for MORE than it cost you. If you sold any of these items for less than it cost, you CANNOT deduct the loss.
2. Sale of securities you bought for investment or speculation.
3. Securities or non-business loans which became worthless in 1954.

All of these transactions would be reported as Capital Assets on Schedule D, under either "Short-Term Capital Gains and Losses" or "Long-Term," depending on this rule:

A non-business or personal loan which became worthless in 1954 is a short-term capital loss regardless of how long ago you made the loan. The rest of the transactions will be short-term if you held the property for six months or less and long-term if held for more than six months.

If you sold your residence in 1954, read over the special rules on page 9 of the official instructions. Note that under certain circumstances where the proceeds of the sale are used to buy another house, part or all of the gain realized may not be taxed. Then check over the following additional information and tips:

The term "residence" includes a house, houseboat, or house trailer. If you live in more than one place it must be your principal residence. When part of the property is used as your principal residence, and part is used for business purposes or rented out, only the allocated gain on that part of the property used as the principal residence is not taxed. The gain on the business or rented part of the property must be reported.

For example, if a taxpayer renting one-third of his residence, sells it for $6000 profit, he must report one-third of the gain, or $2000, but need not report $4000 of the profit if he otherwise complies with the special rules on sale of a residence.

In determining how much you have to put into a new house in order to postpone the tax on a profit you made during 1954 in selling your old house, you start with the selling price of your old house and subtract selling commissions.

In addition, you can subtract expenses for redecorating done to assist the sale and performed within a 90-day period ending on the day you sign a contract to sell the old house, provided you pay for the redecorating within 30 days after the date of sale.

For example, if you sold your house for $15,000, paid a $1000 commission, and a $1000 redecorating bill just after you sold, you will not be taxed on any profit if within the proper period you buy or construct another home costing $13,000 or more.

This is true even though you may have only paid $10,000 for your old home and hence have a gain of $3000. Schedule D printed with this article shows how such a sale was reported.

If you claim the benefit of spe-

Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, 1954. The form includes sections for personal information, income, deductions, and tax calculations. It is a detailed document with many lines for reporting various types of income and expenses.

HOW SALE OF YOUR HOUSE, along with profit from sale of stock, would be reported on Schedule D is shown in this example.

cial rules on the sale of your residence, be sure to attach to Schedule D the information asked for in the official instructions. Even though you did not purchase a new home by Dec 31, 1954, if you think you may either buy or build within the required period you need not report a tax on the profit from the sale of your old residence on your 1954 return, but should enter "none" in column (h), headed "gain or loss" of Schedule D.

If it develops that you don't buy or build and occupy a new residence within the specified time, then you must file an amended 1954 tax return and pay a tax on the profit.

Here are some tips to help you fill out Schedule D:

1. After filling in columns (b) and (c), the date acquired and the date sold, check to make sure all property listed under long-term capital gains and losses was held for more than six months.
2. Put "0" in column (e) (depreciation) unless at some time you rented out the property or used it in a business. You must show depreciation for any period during which the property was so used or rented. Watch for Article 7 for instructions on how to compute depreciation.

Sports Briefs

SPORTS BRIEFS
EAST LANSING — Michigan State's boxing team won six of eight events Friday night, defeating defending NCAA champion Wisconsin, 6-2, in a dual meet. It was MSC's third win over Wisconsin in 16 matches. Three meets have ended in a draw.

EAST LANSING — A first place in the 440-yard freestyle relay—the last event on the program—gave Michigan State a 48-44 victory over Iowa Friday in a dual swimming meet.

The two teams were tied at 40, all going into the event.

Four dual meet records were set as each team took five first places.

EAST LANSING — Dick Phillips won two events and added a second and third place finish last night to lead unbeaten Michigan State to a 69-26 victory over Indiana in a dual Big Ten gymnastics meet.

ANN ARBOR — Illinois' gymnastic team swept all six events last night, defeating Michigan, 61½-34½, in a dual Big Ten meet.

3. Remember to include in column (f) the cost of any improvements, such as an additional room, front porch or the like. Do not include the cost of repairs and ordinary maintenance such as painting the house. Any cost you include here reduces your taxable gain.

Your cost or other basis, which also goes in column (f), is what you paid for the property if you bought it. If it was inherited, it is the fair market value at the date of the decedent's death, or one year later at the election of the executor. If it was a gift received since 1920, the basis is whatever it cost the last person who bought it. If received before 1920, the basis is its fair market value at the time of the gift.

The schedule automatically includes only half of any long-term capital gains in taxable income. This half becomes part of your income, taxed at the same rate as your other income until you pass the 50 per cent bracket.

After the separate Schedule D is filled out, transfer either the gain or loss to the small Schedule D on page 2 of Form 1040.

Tomorrow: Profit or loss from business or profession.

Larsen Named On Tennis Team

NEW YORK — Trigger-tempered Art Larsen, bidding for his second national indoor championship here this weekend, will head the United States skeleton tennis forces in the Pan-American games at Mexico City beginning March 12.

Renville McManis, vice-president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Ass'n., announced today two men and two women would make up the squad to be sent below the border.

While the makeup of the squad isn't definite, it appears the second men's spot will go to either Gilbert Shea, the hardcourt champion from Los Angeles, or Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J., the sensation of the southern summer circuit.

The women's representatives probably will be Jean Clark from Birmingham, Ala., and Darlene Hard, the promising junior miss from Los Angeles.

The crafty, eccentric Larsen, fourth ranked nationally, is the only player ever to win all four of the major USLTA championships—grass, hardcourt, clay and indoor. He was indoor king in 1933 and won at Forest Hills on grass in 1950.

Retired middleweight boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson fought as an amateur under the name of Walker Smith.

Fay Crocker Is Serbin Leader

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. —Thirteen months after she came to the United States "to compete against the best women golfers in the world," Fay Crocker is making a strong bid for a major victory over this country's finest professionals.

Halfway through the $5,000 (Serbin) Women's Open Tournament, the long-hitting native of Montevideo, Uruguay, held a commanding 3-stroke lead over her nearest competitor, Louise Suggs, the 1953 champion money winner from Sea Island, Ga.

Miss Crocker's 71 Friday, coupled with her 74 in the opening round, gave her a 36-hole total of 145, three strokes under par for the course. Miss Suggs was even with par with a pair of 74s.

Patty Berg, Chicago veteran who jumped into the first-day lead with a 73, ran into a severe putting slump Friday and her 76 dropped her into third place with 149.

In fourth place with 151 was Betty Jameson, former national amateur champion from San Antonio, Tex. One stroke farther were Jackie Pung, Cincinnati, and the defending champion, Babe Zaharias of Tampa, Fla.

Kokomo New Team In Baseball Loop

KOKOMO, Ind. —Kokomo will replace Hannibal, Mo., in the Class D Mississippi-Ohio Valley Baseball League for 1955 season.

The announcement was made in Kokomo Friday.

Jim Tobin, supervisor of Midwest minor league umpires was named general manager of the team. The club hopes to arrange a working agreement with a major league team.

Others in the MOV league are Decatur, Mattoon, Paris and Danville, Ill., Clinton and Dubuque, Iowa, and Lafayette, Ind. The season opens May 1.

The last National League player to hit .400 was Bill Terry of the Giants in 1930. He hit .401.

Braves Top Marquette; Move Closer To Crown

MARQUETTE—The Gladstone Braves notched their sixth Great Lakes Conference victory against a lone defeat here last night and took a step closer to the conference championship by beating the Marquette Redmen 67-63.

The Negaunee Miners clung to second place in the standings by nipping Ishpeming 51-42. The Miners have won seven and lost

Eight U. P. Fighters Seek Milwaukee Title

Eight Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves scrappers will climb into the ring in the huge Milwaukee Arena tonight in an effort to capture coveted Milwaukee Journal-Globe Gloves championship trophies.

The eight are survivors of an 11-man U. P. team that won championships in the Escanaba tournament. Six are novices and two are in the open division.

Seeking crowns tonight will be Frank Dory, Jim McVane, Bud Holmberg, Vern Olli, John Ruskis and Vern Coutant, novice fighters, and Harvard Lancoeur and Brian Mastaw, open division entrants.

Indians Host Wildcats In Sunday Hockey Game

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Indians will play their final Upper Peninsula Amateur Hockey League home game Sunday afternoon at 2, entertaining the Menominee Wildcats at the playground rink.

Manager Gordon Haga's sextet needs a victory over Menominee to move ahead of the Escanaba Blackhawks in the league standings.

The Indians will close out the UPAH League schedule at Escanaba against the Blackhawks Wednesday night.

Redskins Drub Channing 87-55 To Share Little Seven Title With Powers

CHANNING—The Hermansville Redskins turned on the steam here last night to ramble to an 87-55 victory over the Channing Railroaders enroute to a championship tie with Powers in the Little Seven Conference.

Lloyd LaCasse led Coach Don Hill's Redskins with 31 points as they notched their 10th league victory against two defeats, same record as posted by Powers, in the final league start. Hermansville closes the season with a non-league home stand against Perkins next Friday.

Hill sent 14 players into the game and all but two of them contributed to the scoring. The Redskins raced to a 23-14 lead in the first period and Channing never came close.

At the half the Redskins held a commanding 44-24 edge and then outscored Channing with reserves seeing most of the action in the last two periods.

Following the classy LaCasse in the scoring department were John Farley and Raphael Poquette with 11 points each. Dale Engquist and John Whitenack were high for Channing with 12 each.

The easy win last night was the 10th in a row for Hermansville and the 15th against only three defeats for the season. The Redskins have not lost since Dec 14 when they dropped a 65-56

two. Gladstone plays Manistique and Negaunee meets Munising in final league games next week.

The game was extremely close through the first half, with the score tied eight times. Marquette led 14-10 at the end of the first period but Gladstone knotted it at the half, 32-32.

Quinn Breaks Loose

Gladstone led 53-47 with five minutes remaining in the game and then gained their largest margin on a field goal by Larry Feldt making it 55-47.

The Redmen came back strong with six straight points to cut the deficit to 55-53 but Gladstone center John Quinn, who had been held to three points up to that time, broke loose to pull the game out of the fire.

With Marquette abandoning its tight zone defense, Quinn lost his guarding opponent to whip in four field goals and a free throw in the final minute and a half.

Butler Is High

Quinn finished with an even dozen points as all five Gladstone players scored in double figures. Norm Butler led the squad with 18 points, Feldt hit 14, Quinn and Jack Beach 12 and Roger Carlson 11.

Marquette's Penglase took scoring honors for the night with 23 points.

Gladstone outscored Marquette by two field goals and each team dumped in seven free throws.

Blue Ruler Against Santa Anita Fight

ARCADIA, Calif. — It was Texas-owned Blue Ruler against the field today as Santa Anita prepared to stage the 17th running of its $100,000 added derby.

Blue Ruler was the individual favorite, although 14 colts were named.

Santa Anita's Derby, at a mile and one-eighth, is the first major event of the year for the 3-year-old division. Its outcome might well point to threats for the more traditional Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Golf Club Champions Tournament Under Way

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. — Three youngsters and veteran dynamite Bill Goodloe went off in today's 36-hole semifinals in the tournament of golf club champions.

Goodloe faced Roger Rubendall, 19, of Freeport, Ill., and the other match was Don Bisplinghoff, 19, Florida amateur champion from Orlando, vs. Don Hoenig, 23, Rhode Island and Massachusetts open champion from Thompson, Conn.

NCAA Grid Teevee Plan Is Agreed On

CHICAGO — The 1965 NCAA football television plan will be announced sometime early next week, Walter Byers, executive director of the association announced Friday.

Byers said the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. television committee has agreed on a plan which will be submitted to member institutions for an approval vote by March 2.

Byers would not indicate what the 12-man committee had agreed upon nor would he say how, if at all, the TV plan might differ from last year's game-of-the-week plan.

Hulbert Wins 95-42 Over Garden Quint

GARDEN—The Garden High School cage quint absorbed a 95-42 lacing last night from Hulbert as four Hulbert players scored in double figures.

Leazier, Hulbert center, led the scoring parade with 29 points. Gordon McPhee paced Garden with 23.

Hulbert took a 20-9 lead in the first period and was never headed.

Scoring Records Set In Northern Victory

MARQUETTE (AP) — Northern Michigan set two new scoring records Friday night in piling up a 119-81 basketball victory over Northland of Ashland, Wis.

Guard Jack Clark's 45 points topped by two the old individual scoring record set two years ago. And the team scoring bettered the old mark of 107 set last season.

Forward Waldon Johnson was high for Northland with 33 points.

The Niagara Badgers of the Menominee Range Conference recently closed their regular basketball season by losing their 19th straight game. Coach Jack Taylor's Badger quint, usually a strong contender in the Range, couldn't get a single win this season. Bark River is also winless as the 1954-55 season nears its end. Calumet is also seeking its first victory at this late date.

Eugene Valesano, who starred on the Wakefield High School football team last fall, is writing headlines in basketball as well. Going into last night's game against Park Falls, Valesano needed only four points to break the all-time Michigan-Wisconsin Conference individual scoring record. Dick Axness, Ashland's great point-maker, set the old record of 203 points in the 1945-46 campaign.

Henry Foster, whose wife is the former Barbara Duchaine of Escanaba, recently advanced to the semifinals of the National Squash Tournament held in Detroit. Foster defeated a former national champion enroute to his semifinal berth but lost to a former champion from Canada.

Stephenson is represented on the Michigan Tech boxing team by a scrappy featherweight, Jim Grinstiner. Coach Lloyd Chappeil expects big things from the Stephenson sophomore who will be making his collegiate ring debut this year.

Northern Michigan-Ontario Hockey League President Milton Joffe recently announced the annual league meeting, to prepare for the playoffs, will be held Thursday, March 3 at the Northland Hotel in Marquette. The Escanaba Hawks get back into action Tuesday night at Portage Lake.

The Hawks, by the way, will be making a determined bid to come out even financially when they play their two remaining games at the fairgrounds exhibition building Sunday, Feb. 27, and Tuesday, March 1. The Hawks need a net take of $500 in each game to break even for the season, and that is considerably more than they've taken in past games. An advance sale of tickets for the two home stands will get under way Monday and a good response would give the scrappy second-place Hawks a big incentive to win.

Hade Takes Scoring Lead As Rock Wallops Broncos

ROCK—The Rock Little Giants, with parents of players watching as guests of the Rock Athletic Association, buried the Bark River Broncos 72-33 here last night as Terry Hade took over the lead in the Upper Peninsula individual scoring race.

Hade, closely guarded by the Broncos, flipped 12 field goals and five free throws through the nets for 29 points to boost his season total to 330 points. He has averaged 24 points per start. His total tops that of John Berrigan

Michigan Wins Hockey Clash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan whipped Minnesota, 5-2; North Dakota nipped Michigan State, 3-2, and Denver upset Colorado College 3-2, in Western Intercollegiate Hockey League play Friday night. Michigan Tech, seventh league member, was idle.

Michigan potted four goals before Minnesota could get started at Minneapolis. Bob Schiller, Jerry Karpiska and Mike Buchanan each got an opening period goal for the Wolverines, then Tom Rendall slapped one in the second period. Jay Gould got Michigan's last at 15:18 of the final period.

Minnesota didn't score until 19 seconds after the opening of the third period.

Michigan State lost in sudden-death overtime play against North Dakota. Bill Reichert smashed in the winning goal at 1:37, after regulation play ended with the score knotted, 2-2. John Polomsky and Jack Mays got MSC goals.

Ed Schiller, MSC goalie, had 37 saves for the night and shut the Nodaks out through the first two periods.

Winger Jack Smith banged in his second goal with only 55 seconds remaining to provide the winning margin for Denver's 3-2 upset of Colorado College.

Warriors Win Fifth Straight Pro Game

(By The Associated Press)

The surprising Philadelphia Warriors, once the doormats of the eastern division of the National Basketball Assn. and now proud winners of five straight, were just a game out of third place today.

With Neil Johnston pouring in 35 points, the Warriors Friday night whipped the first-place Syracuse Nationals, 119-86. Johnston found the mark for 17 free throws, a Philadelphia Convention Hall record.

The Warriors are idle tonight, but meet the third place Boston Celtics Sunday. A victory will tie them with the Celtics for the last playoff spot.

No other games were scheduled Friday night.

CERV SIGNS

NEW YORK (AP)—Outfielder Bob Cerv agreed to terms today, giving the New York Yankees 37 players signed for 1955. Cerv had a .260 average in 100 times at bat for the Yanks last season.

Nahma Arrows Defeat Perkins Quint 70-59

NAHMA—The Nahma Arrows notched their fourth straight victory here last night by trimming Perkins 70-59 in a Central League contest with forward Bernard Newhouse pumping in 26 points for the winner.

The teams battled on fairly even terms through the first half with Coach Harold Anderson's Arrows leading 15-14 at the end of the initial frame and 33-28 at the intermission.

Nahma spurred for 23 points, 13 more than Perkins, in the third quarter to put the game on ice. Perkins came back in the final period to cut the deficit but couldn't over take the Arrows.

Next Tuesday the Arrows play their final home game of the season, entertaining the tall Powers Tigers. They close the campaign Friday night at Rapid River.

The Nahma Junior High won the preliminary game, 46-30. Hermanson and Gustafson set the pace for the Perkins quint.

Emeralds Set Torrid Pace To Clip Eskymos 87 To 75

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Emeralds put on a terrific scoring act in the first half here last night to carry them to an 87-75 victory over the Escanaba Eskymos.

Coach Rudie Brandstrom's cagers were red hot from the field as they poured 51 points through the hoops in the first two periods. They had to be to stay ahead of the Eskymos who pumped 45 points through the nets themselves.

Emeralds Start Fast

Manistique set the opening pace by moving out to a 12-3 lead midway in the first quarter. Bill Holm, Ken Dixon and Bob Corson scored 10 straight points to give the Emeralds that margin. The period ended with Manistique leading 25-18.

The Eskymos put on a scoring show themselves in the second period, cramming 23 points through the nets to cut their deficit to 51-45.

Each team scored 16 points in the third period and the Emeralds spurred early in the fourth to open the gap to 73-61 and then coasted in with the victory.

The Eskymos lost two starters in the final period when Jack Carlson fouled out with four minutes remaining and Jim Beck went out in the final minute.

Giants Have All Players Signed

NEW YORK (AP)—First in the National League, first in the World Series and first in all players signed was the proud boast of the world champion New York Giants today.

It was estimated that the players probably got about $550,000 or almost 15 per cent more than last year.

Tops on the club is Alvin Dark, the captain and shortstop who signed for two years at about $38,000 per year after the series. The only other man in the $30,000 plus class is Sal Maglie, the veteran righthander, who gets about $32,000.

Willie Mays is in the $25,000 strata along with Monte Irvin. Around $20,000 are Johnny Antonelli, Don Mueller, Whitey Lockman and Ruben Gomez. Scattered between $15,000 and $20,000 are Davey Williams, Hoyt Wilhelm, Wes Westrum and Hank Thompson.

Two Foul Out

Manistique's Bob Hastings and Eskymo Bill Bolm shared scoring honors for the night with 27 points. Each team scored 31 field goals with the Emeralds winning on their gift tosses. They hit 25 of 35 from the foul line while the Eskymos converted 13 of 24. The win was the eighth against six defeats for the Emeralds this season. Escanaba has won seven and lost eight.

Manistique won the Bee team preliminary, 51-45.

Powers Clips Vulcan 71-58 To Share Title In Little Seven Loop

POWERS—The Powers-Spalding Tigers measured a stubborn Vulcan quint 71-58 last night to finish in a deadlock atop the Little Seven Conference standings with the Hermansville Redskins.

It was the 10th win against only two losses in league play for Powers, the same final record as Hermansville's Redskins. Each team has one more game on the schedule but neither is a conference opponent. Hermansville kept pace with Powers last night by trimming Channing 87-55.

The Tigers ran off to a 21-5 lead at the end of the first period and it looked like a soft touch but the Vulcan Giant Killers crept back in the second and third periods to narrow the deficit to 47-44 going into the final frame.

24-Point Spurt

Coach Marv R. Pele's Tigers iced the game with a 24-point spurt in the last period, outscoring Vulcan by 10 points.

Sophomore center Bernard Poupore, just recovered from a pair of sprained ankles and seeing full time service for the first time in weeks, led the Tigers with 22 points.

The tall Powers forwards, Jim Sargent and Bill Berg, both contributed in double figures, scoring 19 and 16 points. All seven players who saw action for Powers added to the scoring total.

Vulcan's Valerio took scoring 16 of 20 gift shots and adding three field goals, Vulcan converted 26 of 40 free throws while Powers hit on 31 while missing 26.

The victory was the 13th of the season for Powers against four defeats. The Tigers close out the regular season next Tuesday at Nahma.

The Powers Bee team also won last night in the preliminary game, 39-35.

Art Devlin To Jump With Wrist In Cast

IRON MOUNTAIN—It will take more than a broken wrist to stop Art Devlin, Lake Placid, N. Y. star, from attempting to land his third straight U. S. Olympic ski-jumping team berth in the try-outs here February 25-26-27.

The 32-year-old motel operator who suffered a fractured wrist in a fall in the national tournament at Leavenworth, Wash., nearly two weeks ago, will jump here with his left forearm in a cast.

Devlin was a member of the 1948 and 1952 Olympic teams and despite his injury, he is a ranking favorite to finish high in the top six here next week.

He provided concrete evidence at Brattleboro, Vt., Sunday that jumping with his arm in a cast isn't going to slow him down much. Competing against the advice of his physician, Devlin out-pointed a field including Roy Sherwood, of Salisbury, Conn. 1954 national champion; John Riisnes, former Norwegian champion who is attending the University of New Hampshire; and Art Tinkle, of Chicago, member of the 1932 Olympic team.

In winning first place at Brattleboro, Devlin had the long jump of 217 feet, four feet longer than his nearest rival.

In other words, its going to take more than a busted wrist to keep Devlin, a determined, confident and keen competitor from making the trip to Cortina, Italy, next year with the 1956 United States Olympic team.

UCLA And Oregon Will Battle For Cage Title

The Associated Press
Time is running out for the contenders to the Pacific Coast Conference basketball championship, and it looks like UCLA and Oregon State in the showdown for the automatic NCAA tournament berth that goes with the title.
Oregon State, which wrapped up the northern division title earlier this week, extended its unbeaten league record to 13 games Friday night by thumping Washington State 73-61. UCLA doesn't have the southern division crown under lock and key yet, but the Uclans don't need much more to stow it away after beating California 55-48 while

Field Closes In On Mike Souchak

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (P)—The ring tightened around stout Mike Souchak today as he led a field of 76 into the third round of the $12,500 Texas Open golf tournament boasting a bare stroke advantage.
The squat man-mountain from Durham, S.C., had 14-under-par 128 for 36 holes but hot behind him came Freddie Haas of Claremont, Calif., with 129, and not too far distant were the men who made a shambles of par over the 6,400 yard Brackenridge Park course—Chandler Harper of Chattanooga at 133 and Jackie Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., at 131.
Souchak, whose 11-under-par 60 Thursday tied the PGA record for 18 holes, shot a 68 Friday and Haas as a result narrowed his lead to one stroke by shooting a 67.
In third place at 131 were Burke and Al Balding of Toronto, Canada, who also had a 67. Next in line were Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kan., and John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., all with 132.

Sports Roundup

Another big blowup could be on the horizon for college basketball . . . with the New York bookies already laying off one of the local school teams because of "surprising" reversals . . . coming on the heels of a Dayton bribe attempt . . . and a big wind from Kansas swirling on the increase in college cage betting . . .

Tom Gola

The pro basketball scouts are openly dubious of the ability of Indiana's Don Schlundt to make good in the National Basketball Association . . . which might lead him right into AAU ball . . .
Another cage kid looking into the possibilities of amateur industrial basketball is the nation's No. 1 collegian — LaSalle's Tom Gola . . . who doesn't fancy the rugged schedule grind of the Philadelphia Warriors, especially since he'll be a married man by next season . . . likes the "job security" AAU ball will afford him . . . and has only a short time to make up his mind, since a Philly sports writer is pressuring him to star in a post-season Eastern junket which would clean up. Our bet: Gola will turn pro. . .
Gola sounded out Clyde Lovellette of the Minneapolis Lakers to get a line on what life is like in Bartlesville, Okla. . . Clyde is a Phillips Oil evacuee. . .
The solid man of the St. Louis Billikens is rugged Grady Smith, a farm boy from Puxico, Mo., who couldn't hide his disappointment the first time he saw Madison Square Garden and its grit instead of glamour. . . "This place would sure hold a lot of hay," was his laconic reaction . . . and he meant it. . .
An amazing specimen must be Hiles Stout, the 6-4 Illini cager who plays the pivot . . . and is also agile and dexterous enough to loom as the first string quarterback on those handoffs to J. C. Caroline next fall . . . no goon there. . .
When Fred Dwyer utilized his noodle in the Baxter Mile to let Wes Santee and Gunnar Nielsen run themselves into the ground (oops, boards), it brought to mind the old newspaper clipping he told us he carries around in his wallet . . . quoting Glenn Cunningham: "Distance running is the toughest competition there is. It's not only man against man. It's man against himself." . . .
The draft rights to Arnold Short, the top banana in AAU basketball, are owned by Fort Wayne . . . whose coach, Charlie Eckman, was told by Short last spring he wanted to defer his pro career until after Army service coming up. . .
Artesia, N. M., will drop out of the National Industrial Basketball League after this season, our agent reports, because of poor attendance (only 400 per game) . . . which should lead to a deluxe scramble among Phillips, Peoria, et al, for the services of Don Heathington, the former Bayorite who led the NIBL scorers a couple of years ago, and Bill (Look and Feel) Sharp, the tiny guard from Wyoming. . . The Oilers are still the biggest road card in AAU ball, averaging 3000 hostile fans per game.
Look for another raft of basketball Selvy's to come out of Corbin, Ky. . . because in addition to high-fiving Frank of Furman and the Milwaukee Hawks, there are five younger brothers—all basketball-minded . . . and high school senior Ed already has signed a Kentucky grant-in-aid. . .
Overheard: Syracuse's Paul Seymour grumbling in the Garden after bumping Boston's Bob Cousy on a drive-in and drawing a foul, "Blankety-blankety-blank. You can't even touch that guy." . . . Paul escaped without a technical because his remarks were directed at use on press row, instead of the referee at his elbow . . . Fines have multiplied three times in the NBA this season. . .
Between you'n'me, watch the Pacific Coast League revive that third major league scarecrow . . . now that Ms orexy has a higher operating budget than Ford Frick himself. . . (NEA Feature)

Gophers Can Take Big Step Towards Big Ten Title With Win Today

CHICAGO (P)—Minnesota, seeking its first undisputed Big Ten basketball title in 18 years, can take a bigstep towards that goal today by defeating Michigan in a nationally televised game at Ann Arbor (2 p.m. CST—CBS).
The Wolverines, victors in three of their last four starts, can be mighty rough at home. They beat Northwestern Monday night and lost to Illinois last week by one point.
If Minnesota beats Michigan, the Gophers have one more road game left against Wisconsin Monday before going back to Minneapolis for a pair of games which wind up the season.
Iowa Is Close
Iowa, only 1/2 game behind Minnesota, is at Michigan State tonight while Illinois, the other contender, is at Wisconsin. In other games, Northwestern is at Indiana and Purdue is at Ohio State.
Michigan's chances of upsetting the Gophers rest largely on the broad shoulders of Ron Kramer, sophomore football sensation who is finding himself at home on the basketball court.
Kramer started off slowly but appears to have reached his peak with 28-point performances against both Purdue and Northwestern.
Michigan must also stop Minnesota's big three—Dick Garmaker, Chuck Mencil and Bill Simonovich.
Big Rebounder
Garmaker, leading scorer in the conference, and Mencil give Minnesota a strong one-two scoring punch while Simonovich, 6 foot 10, is a rebounding problem to Minnesota opponents.
Iowa's task of beating Michigan State at East Lansing seems tougher than Minnesota's problem of getting by Michigan.
Illinois also can run into trouble at Madison since the Badgers beat Illinois in the season opener last month.
Iowa can move into first place by beating Michigan State while Minnesota loses.
However, Hawkeye hopes are somewhat dim since Iowa must play both at Illinois and Minnesota.

U.S. Track Team Is About Picked

NEW YORK (P)—After tonight's final exam in the AAU indoor champions, a 30 - man U.S. track and field team will be picked to compete in the Pan-American games at Mexico City next month. And you probably could name about half of them without waiting for the title meet.
No matter what happens when Wes Santee and Fred Dwyer hook up with Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen in the mile, probably for the last time this season, its a cinch both will be chosen for the Pan-American squad.
So will such standouts of the indoor season as Mal Whitfield, Harrison Dillard, Horace Ashenfelter, Bob Richards and Parry O'Brien.
Actually the AAU meet won't have too much bearing on the selections. In most cases, it will be just a test of fitness for stars who earned their places in outdoor competition. A good many others won't even get this final test because there's no indoor counterpart of the events in which they shine.
Among these are Bud Held and Fortune Gordien, who throw the javelin and discus to record distances, and Curt Stone, winner of the first Pan-American steeplechase and 10,000 meters titles. Stone will tune up in the three-mile race tonight.

Speed Skaters Ready To Start

MOSCOW (P)—The world speed-skating championships got under way today with 44 speedsters from 14 countries trying for titles in the two day competition. Included are three Americans—the first time since the end of World War II the Yanks have competed in Russia in sports.
Ken Henry of Chicago, Ken McDermott of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., and John Werket of Minneapolis, along with their coach, Richard Shearman of Jamestown, N. Y. are here for the competition.
Henry, the Olympic 500 meter champion, is the man to beat. He has raced in Europe every year since 1948. The last time the Americans competed in the world championship was in Norway in 1952 when Henry won the 500 in 43.4.
Werket, that year, was second in the 1,500 meters. McDermott broke the American 500 meter record last month in the Olympic trials, racing the distance in 42.5.
The weather was just above the freezing mark in the spacious Dynamo Stadium and a crowd of about 36,000 was expected.

Charles Too Good For The Likes Of Norkus

NEW YORK (P)—Ezzard Charles isn't the fighter he used to be but he still is much too good for the likes of Charley Norkus.
Slow and wild after a five-month layoff and two beatings by Rocky Marciano, the former heavyweight champion Friday night exposed Norkus as a crude but willing workman who was "in over his head."
After winning a unanimous decision in 10 rounds and dropping Norkus with a "sneak right" for an automatic eight count in the early seconds of the ninth, Charles said he was ready for anybody.
33 Years Old
Ezzy, now 33, has been sending no telegrams, circulating no petitions and writing no campaign letters but anybody who wants to fight Marciano will find him spoiling for action.
That goes for Archie Moore, Nino Valde, Don Cockell or anybody you can think of, according to Charles.
"I'm making no claims on any Marciano bout," said Charles. "I'm ready to take them as they come."
Harry Markson, director of boxing for the International Boxing club said he had March 18, and March 25 open at Madison Square Garden where 5,304 paid $17,230 to see Friday night's scrap.
Hook Best Punch
At 191 1/2 pounds to Norkus' 195 1/2, Charles was a bit heavy.
As usual, his left hook to body and head was his best punch until he hurt his hand.
If Charles hadn't been penalized in the sixth round for a low left hook, Norkus wouldn't have won a round on two official cards.
Counting that sixth for Norkus, Judge Joe Agnello scored it 9-1 and Referee Kessler 8-1-1. Judge Jack Gordon had it 8-2. The AP card also was 8-2, giving Norkus the first and sixth.
McWane, Bishop, Top Mixed Foursome Play
PALM BEACH, Fla. (P)—Bee McWane of Birmingham, Ala., and Ted Bishop of Boston are the new champions of the mixed foursomes two-ball golf tournament at the Everglades club.
They came from behind to defeat Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., and J. Walcott Brown of Manassquan, N.J., 1-up in 19 holes of the finals Friday.
The Pittsburgh Pirates hit only three home runs off Milwaukee pitching during the 1954 season.

3 Townships Hold Primaries

Primary elections will be held in three Delta County townships Monday. They are Baldwin, Ford River and Escanaba Townships. Major interest centers around the contests for supervisor in each of the primaries. In Baldwin Township Bertha Carlson is opposed by Henry Gustafson. In Ford River Chester Feak is opposed by Phil Miron and in Escanaba Township Henry Hughes is opposed by John Sharkey.

Stephenson

VFW Essay Contest
STEPHENSON—Prizes to be awarded in the Mid-County VFW Ladies' Auxiliary essay contest will include a bronze medal and cash award for first prize and a cash award for second prize. The first prize winning essay will be sent to the state headquarters to compete for state and national honors. The contest is opened to all ninth to twelfth grade students in the Stephenson and Daggett High Schools. The theme of the essay is "What Civil Defense Means To Me."

Judges are Miss Ann Lundmark, teacher in the Daggett School, and James Bastien, supervisor of the Stephenson Ground Observer Corps.

Communion Breakfast
At its regular meeting for the month of February the Holy Name Society of the Precious Blood Church discussed plans for the annual father-son breakfast to be served Sunday, March 13 in the church hall.

Attend Nadeau Meeting
Alex Horvath, Edward Kline, Robert Manacher and Frank Hood attended a deaneary Holy Name meeting at Nadeau Tuesday evening, Feb. 15 at which plans were made for a county-wide Holy Name Day of Recollection to be held March 27. Time and place will be announced later. A speakers bureau also was discussed. It will be in operation by March 1. This will provide parish units with speakers and entertainment for monthly meetings.

William VandeHei, retreat chairman of Menominee, explained the retreat and summer camping program for children at Camp Plagens, near Watersmeet and urged each unit to sponsor the retreat and camping programs.

Lions Club Meeting
Plans were made at the last meeting of the Stephenson Lions Club for the annual Farmers' Night, March 14. The dinner will be served in the St. Stephen's church dining hall. Allen C. Weber is chairman of the Farmers' Night committee. The club also plans a light bulb campaign in the near future to raise funds for their charitable work. Ward McNeal is general chairman for this project.

Warren Hubbard extended an invitation to club members to attend an open meeting of the Farmers' Union at the VFW clubhouse, in Daggett March 8.

Following the business meeting Joseph B. Gucky gave an interesting talk on "The Atom and Atomic Energy."

Honor Students
Eunice C. Carlson, Marjann Crandall, Hilding Linderoth and Robert Edward Weber, graduates of Stephenson High School are among the Michigan State College students whose names appear on the honors list for the fall term, 1954.

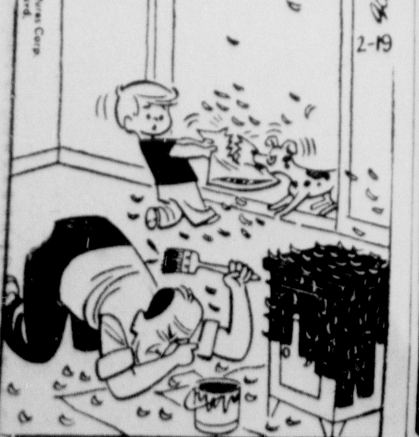

These students have maintained a 3.50 or higher academic average for the term, (B-plus or better).

Their names are posted in the College Union building as part of a display arranged by Mortar Board, campus honorary for senior women.

Agriculture Board Backs MSC Bid For University Status

EAST LANSING (AP)—The State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State College, has officially stepped into the campaign to give the college university status.

A resolution approved by the board declared it would "welcome enactment by the Legislature authorizing the name of Michigan State University of Agriculture and Applied Science."

Legislators sympathetic to the proposal are readying a bill authorizing the name change.

Backers declared it would make an ideal birthday present for the Michigan State 100th anniversary celebration.

Considerable opposition also has developed, particularly from University of Michigan graduates in the Legislature and those who fear the change might lead to Michigan State being confused with the university.

A similar measure was introduced in the Legislature last year but the state board finally asked that it be withdrawn when the same opposition developed.

The appointment of Prof. Durward B. Varner as vice president of the college was approved by the board. Varner becomes the first man to hold the title of vice president in the history of the college.

Varner has been a member of the college staff since 1949 and became director of the cooperative extension service in 1952.

Transfers approved included: Walter J. Messer from Lapeer County 4-H Club agent to Luce-Mackinac county agricultural agent.

Mrs. Dorothy Erler from assistant state 4-H Club leader in the Upper Peninsula with headquarters at Marquette to acting associate district supervisor for home economics at East Lansing.

Leonard J. Hill from Berrien County 4-H Club agent to assistant county agent at large.

Wind Postpones Nuclear Blasts

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A nuclear detonation scheduled at dawn was postponed early today by scientists because of continuing high winds. Strong gusts caused a three-day delay in opening the spring atomic test series.

A weather briefing at 2 a.m. PST disclosed that a straight north wind was blowing 30 to 35 m.p.h., with gusts up to 40 m.p.h.

A detonation under those wind conditions, the test chiefs said, would have forced the evacuation of the test control point, of Camp Mercury, the AEC support camp, and of Camp Desert Rock, the Army headquarters, because of the danger of radioactive contamination.

Another weather huddle was scheduled, probably about 11 a.m. PST to discuss a Sunday shot. But meteorologists said the weather outlook is not good.

Today's shot was to have been the 500-foot tower explosion originally scheduled to open the series last Tuesday. About 450 troops were scheduled to carry out maneuvers after taking the impact of the blast in trenches 4,000 yards from the tower. Including observers, perhaps 1,100 men were to have taken up trench positions.

Loses Libel Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—Former U.S. Rep. W. Kingsland Macy Friday was awarded $50,000 libel damages against the New York World-Telegram and Sun in a suit in which he sought $250,000.

The issue involved a Sept. 5, 1950 letter written by then Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley to Macy, Long Island Republican leader but a political foe of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

In the letter, Hanley said he had been assured in conferences with Dewey that his financial obligations would be cleared up if he, Hanley, withdrew his bid for the GOP gubernatorial nomination and ran instead for the U.S. Senate.

On Oct. 18, 1950, the World, Telegram and Sun used a story saying Macy had threatened to make the Hanley letter public unless he, Macy, received the GOP nomination for U.S. senator that fall.

The Democrats seized on the letter as campaign propaganda.

Honey Buckets Full Of Silver

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Jay Renfro, beekeeper, is a changed man since a Michigan honey dealer got the sweetest consignment of honey ever shipped out of central Texas.

Renfro sold a sizable order of honey to E. M. Warrick, local honey broker. Warrick sold it to M. L. Hubbard, of Onsted, Mich.

For awhile the transaction was a paper deal and the honey remained in Renfro's warehouse.

Renfro left town for a few days. About the same time, Hubbard got an offer for the honey and wanted it shipped to him immediately.

Warrick didn't think Renfro would have any objections. So he entered Renfro's warehouse and shipped 1,800 buckets of honey to Michigan.

Renfro was more than a little upset when he returned.

"Two of those buckets are full of my life's savings," he told Warrick. "More than $500 in half dollars."

Warrick got Hubbard on the telephone.

Sure, Hubbard said, he'd look for the money in the honey. But he figured it was rather like looking for a needle in a haystack.

A few hours later he telephoned back.

"By golly, you were right. They are here. And by golly, Renfro was right. The buckets are full of half dollars!"

Renfro has some $522 back and tells his friends:

"No more honey money buckets for me."

This advertisement is sponsored by your city government to bring the facts to you—facts that may have an important bearing on the solution to the Escanaba Power Problem. Send your questions to the City Manager and answers based on fact will appear in t

The Questions:

1. In What ways does the City plan on regaining revenue lost through possible sale of the distribution system?

2. Is $1,200,000 a fair price for our distribution system when it has been such a lucrative source of revenue for our city government?

The Answers:

1. This will largely depend on the action of your City Council. Revenues may be regained by increasing the assessed property valuations, by imposing special assessment taxes on sewage and other services, by reducing the services you are now receiving, or by a combination of the foregoing.

2. After a study was made of the City's books by the U. P. Power Company, an offer was made to purchase the distribution system for $1,000,000. In the proposition as submitted to the Council this figure was raised to $1,200,000. Estimated values vary by millions of dollars.

Democrats Try Hard To Find Big Names For April 4 Ticket

LANSING (AP)—Reports that Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth of Flint, former attorney general, will consent to be a Democratic candidate for the State Supreme Court this spring have zipped up Democratic convention hopes.

The Democrats meet in Grand Rapids a week from Saturday to select their nominees for the April 4 election.

Politicians think that the youthful, personable Roth would give real sparkle to a ticket which party leaders have found hard to stud with many gems.

Roth has refused to comment on the reports.

For the rest, the party seems to be unable to persuade many name candidates to make a race this spring.

Soo Man Promoted
A week before convention, Lynn M. Bartlett, assistant superintendent of schools at Grosse Pointe and former University of Michigan professor, is regarded as the likely choice for superintendent of public instruction. Also mentioned is William E. Baker, superintendent of the Mesick Consolidated Schools, but the gossip is that Baker might be switched to the state board of agriculture race if Bartlett gets the school head nomination.

Black Good Prospect
The largest field of candidates is listed for the two Supreme Court positions.

Right now most attention is given to Hazen J. Hatch, Marshall attorney and former legislator, and Thomas Giles Kavanagh of Birmingham.

Others considered are Arthur G. Lyon of Coldwater, Leon A. Cousins of Detroit, Robert McAllister of Grand Rapids, and Edward J. Ryan of Kalamazoo.

Democrats titillate themselves with the thought of nominating for the high court Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black of Port Huron, former Republican attorney general whom Williams appointed to the bench and who has been violently critical of Republican policies and personalities.

Frank A. Semperger, assistant superintendent of Melvindale schools, and John H. Schneider, former Wayne County circuit court commissioner, are mentioned for nomination to the state board of education.

and "cannot but lead to increasing danger of a devastating atomic war."

United Nations circles in New York and U.S. State Department officials said the Russian statement appeared to be primarily another Soviet attempt to head off West German rearmament. Acceptance of the Soviet proposal would prevent the Bonn government from contributing a single soldier to Western defense.

Despite the Soviet statement that they favored "effective international control", Washington officials said the Russian proposal did not give an inch toward the Western demand for ironclad controls through inspection to see that written pledges are observed.
